Jeffrey,

You know that I will do whatever you want to make you happy. I believe that you are using the escutcheon as a means of measurement to justify "proper" seat cushion thickness. This is not always the case as the physical dimensions and comfort for each of our clients is very individualistic.

You sat in the seat numerous times to identify what you felt was ideal.

If you want to change this by removing 1" of foam, let me know and we will do so.

If you are asking my opinion, then I will need to sit in the seat on the 12th and then I can render a thoughtful opinion.

Either way, your happiness and pleasure is all that I desire.
