Yes it does. Do you think we can get Benji and Donnie Dipasquale to chip in too?

Ha! My markup is just 20%.

Warren does have some assets, but they are very worried about money. He has no life insurance and his health insurance will not cover a helper. Does that answer your question meatball?

I don't mind doing this but doesn't Warren have some sort of health insurance or disability insurance that would cover some part of this? Or any assets? You're only talking about $1400/week. How many weeks do you think he realistically has? What is your markup?

Warren's condition continues to decline. Linda is going loco. I have found the perfect caregiver for Warren- Arnie Mercado. He took care of Janet's father when he took ill. He is a 50 yr old Filipino who has been a care giver for his whole life. He will refer to Warren as Dr. Eisenstein, will wipe his ____ and dab his _____. He's strong enough to lift him. He has a car. He's very formal and respectful. This fellow will give Warren some dignity, instead of Linda having to do all the work and bitching about it. I want to get him on board today, but I'm waiting to hear back from Linda for the OK. I will tell her not to worry about the cost. Arnie will cost about $20 - 24 per hour or about $200 per day. Jeff/Mark, how about we split this expense for Warren? Michael: Please continue to talk to Warren and Linda every day - its been very helpful to them.

Pls get back asap, as I want to hire Arnie immediately. TK
