Decor Inspired by the Master of American Architecture

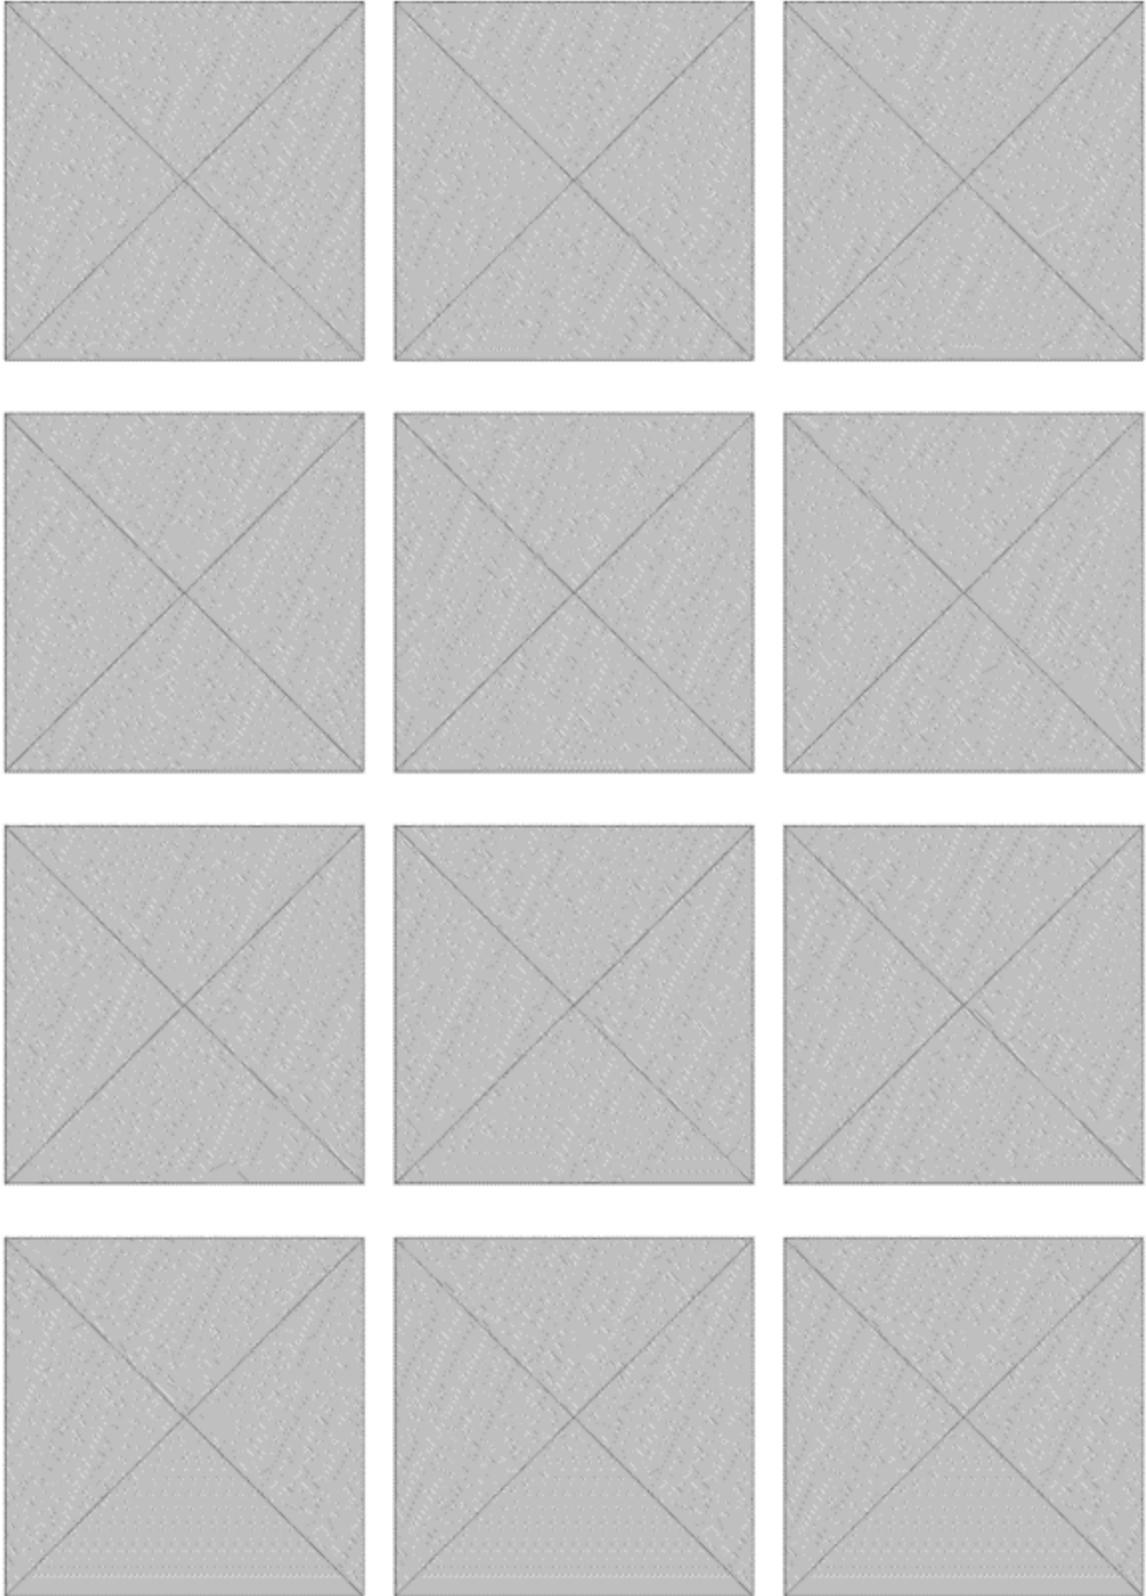

Today's collection is inspired by one of our favorite architectural wonders, the stunning Fallingwater house by Frank Lloyd Wright. Constructed in 1936 in rural southwestern Pennsylvania, the home sits directly over a beautiful cascading waterfall. Wright set out to build structures that integrated with nature in perfect harmony, and Fallingwater is perhaps his greatest achievement in this regard. Here we pay tribute to the masterpiece and its master through an array of products inspired by this iconic design. From natural wood furniture to geometric patterns to designs reminiscent of stained glass, browse décor inspired by Frank Lloyd Wright and his majestic Fallingwater house.
