Let your creativity take flight with the aeronautical adventures contained within today's curated collection. Drawing from vintage, industrial, and steampunk inspirations, we've gathered a flock of winged and patinated goods to shake up your living room. Whether your heart flutters for a table made from a plane's wing, some inventive industrial lighting, or a quirky doorstop shaped like a winged pig, take a look around our aviation-inspired picks and let your imagination soar.

Give your wall an old-fashioned update with this retro factory-style clock. Its cage-protected face has a hard-working patina on it, looking fresh from the factory floor.

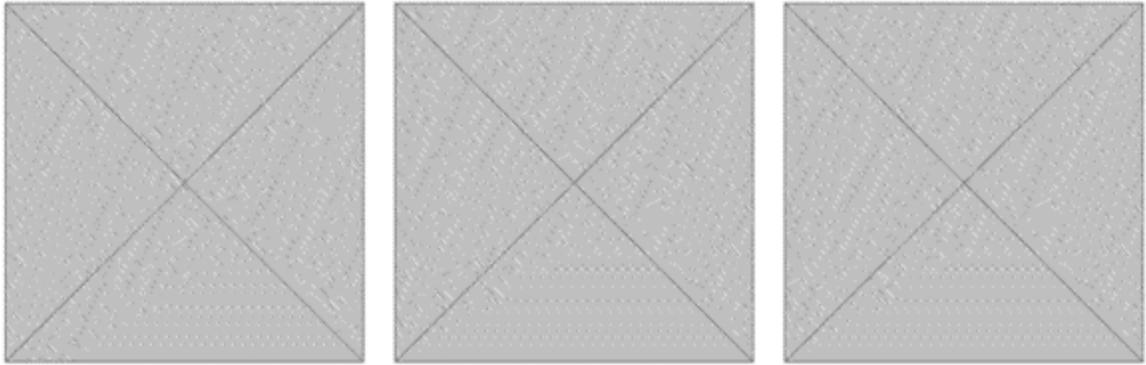

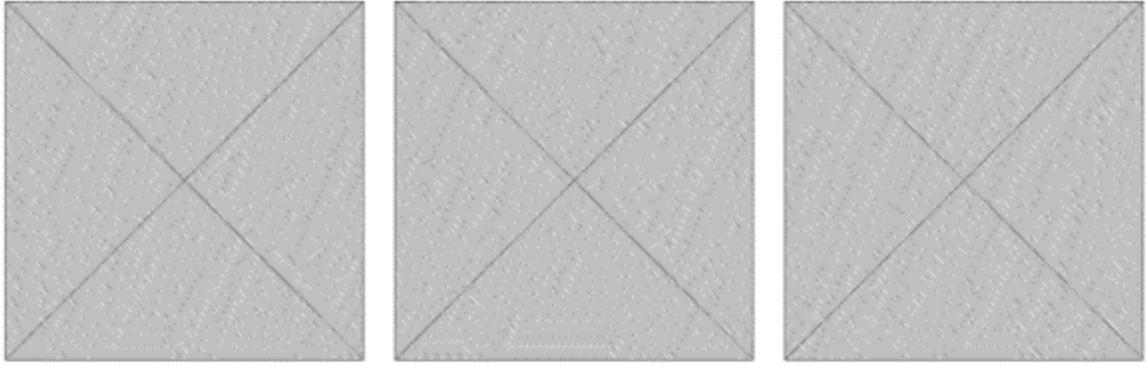

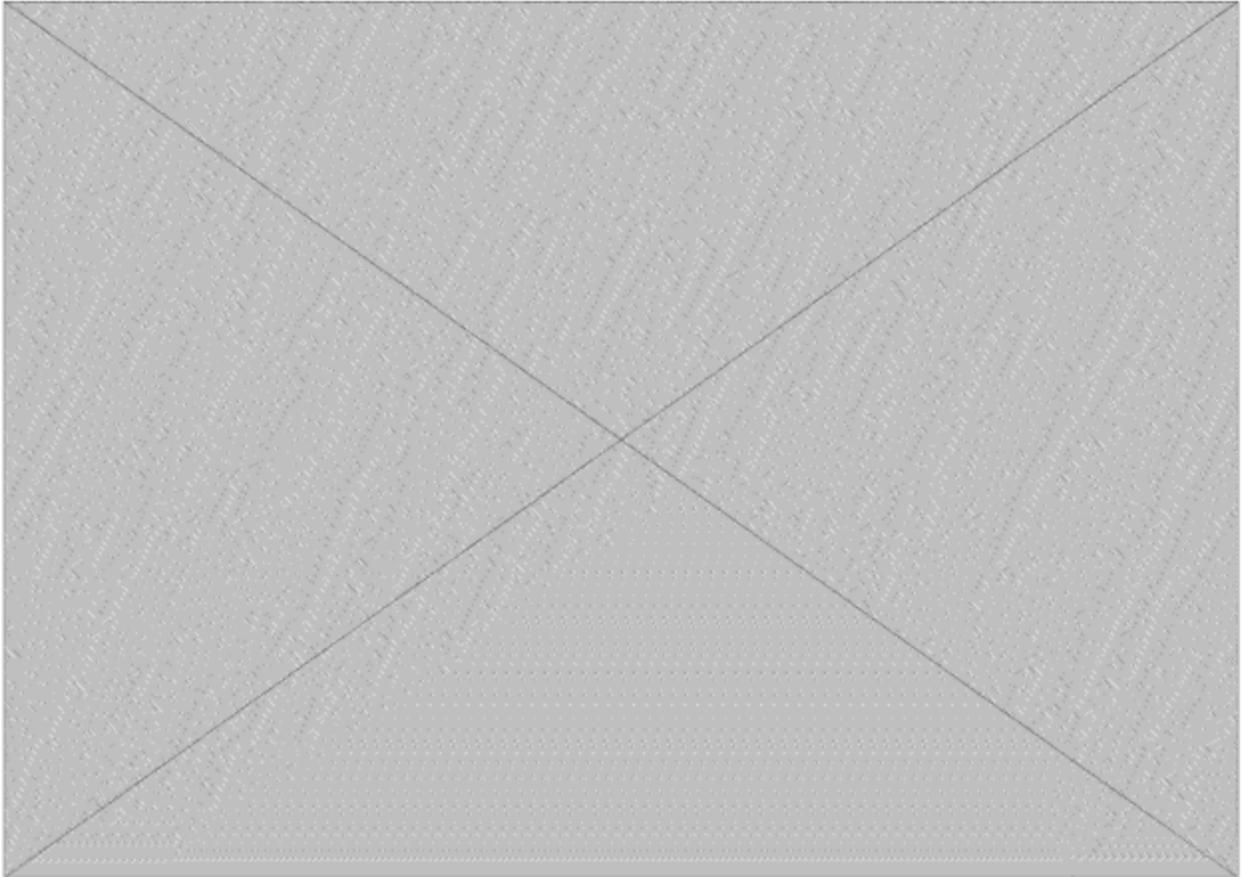

Dress up the wall with these charmingly rustic wings. Delicate feather patterns are layered in the wood, then painted bright, gleaming gold and uniquely distressed for a one-of-a-kind art piece.

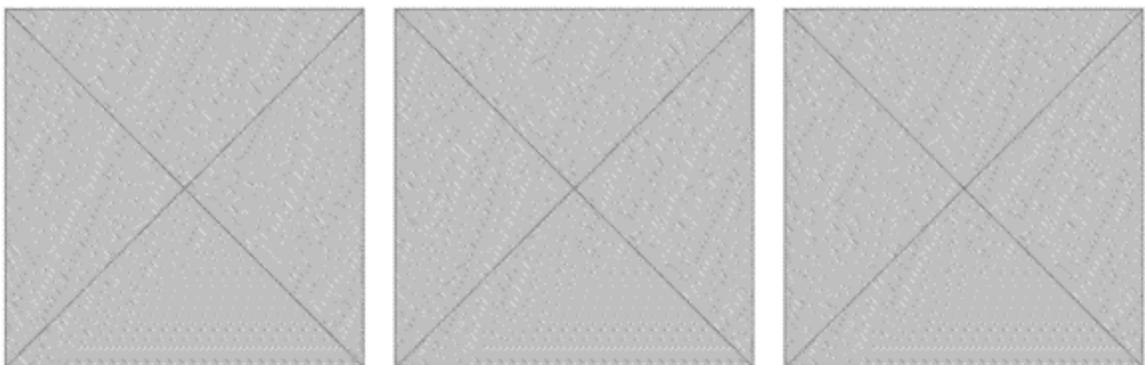

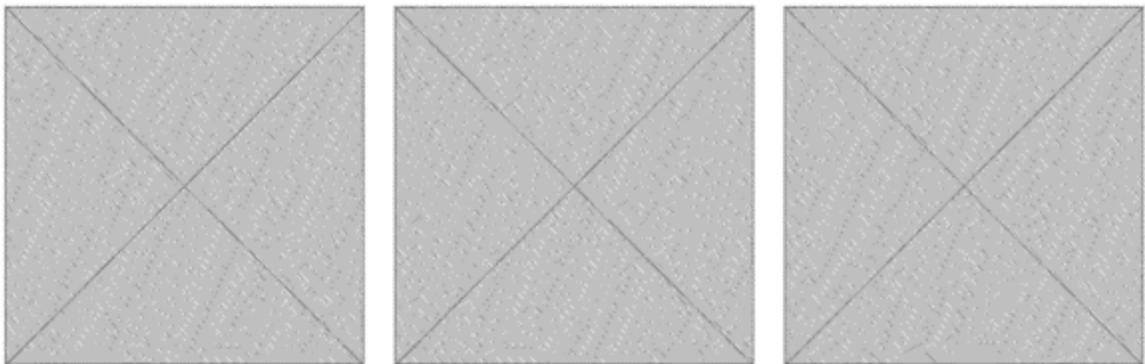

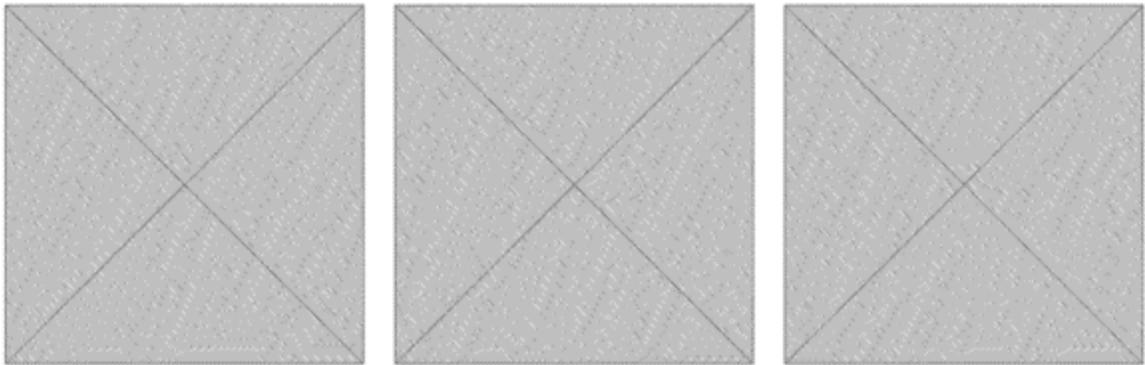

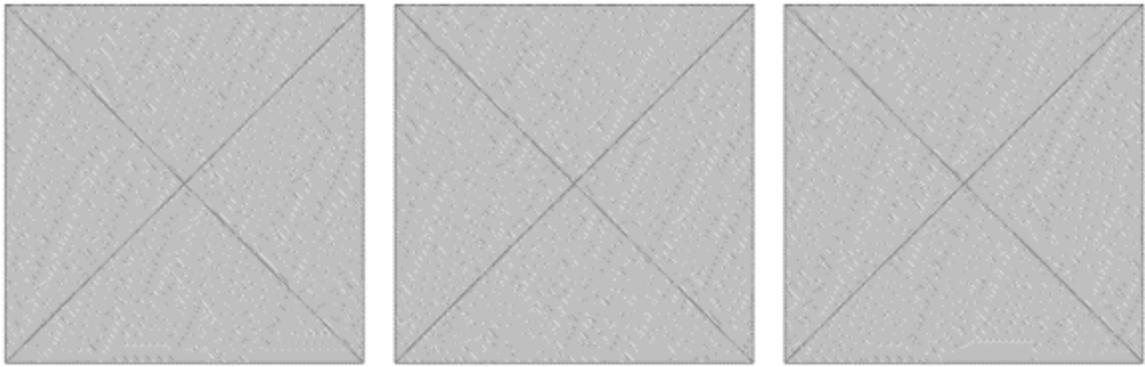

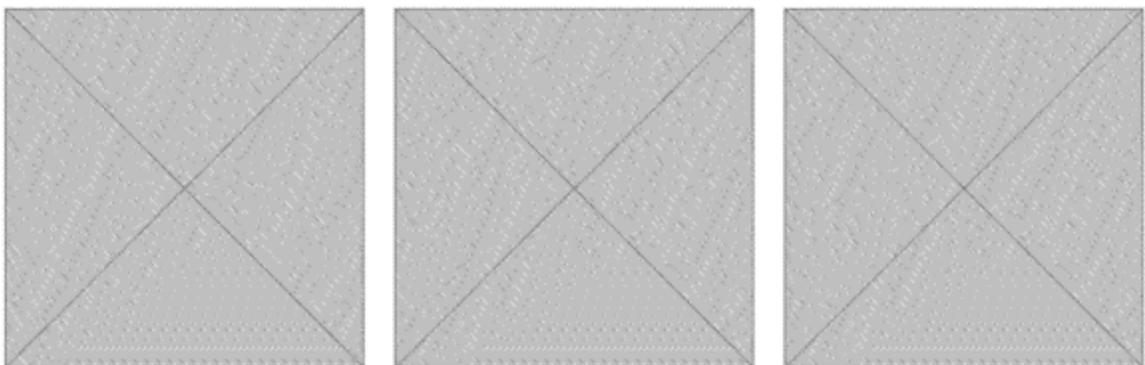

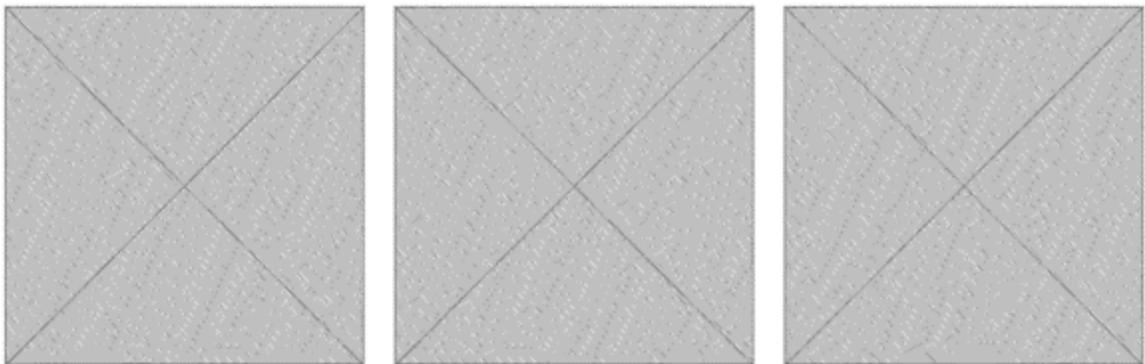

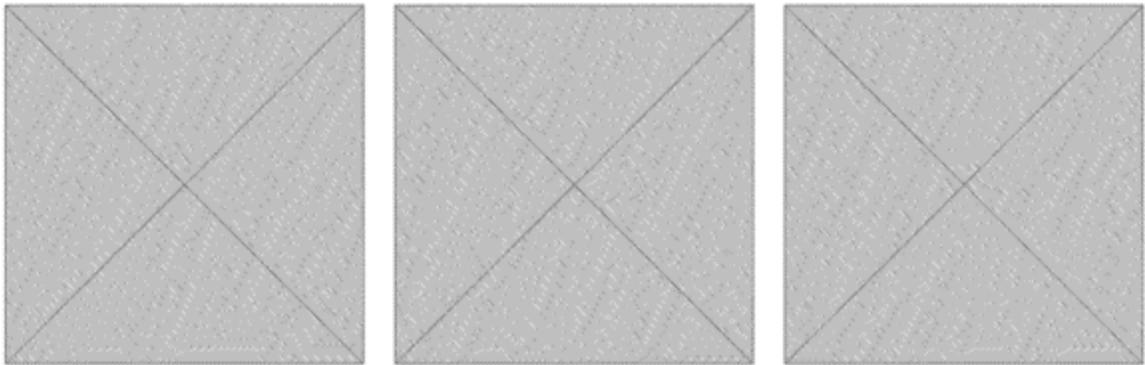

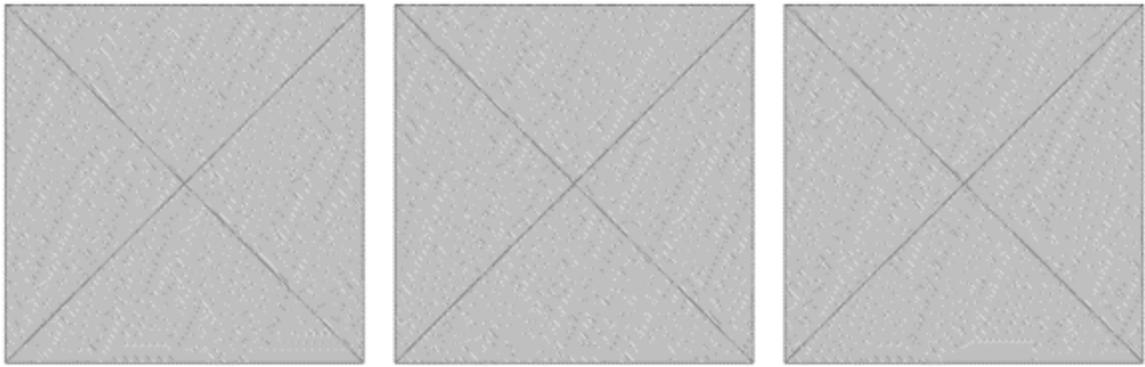

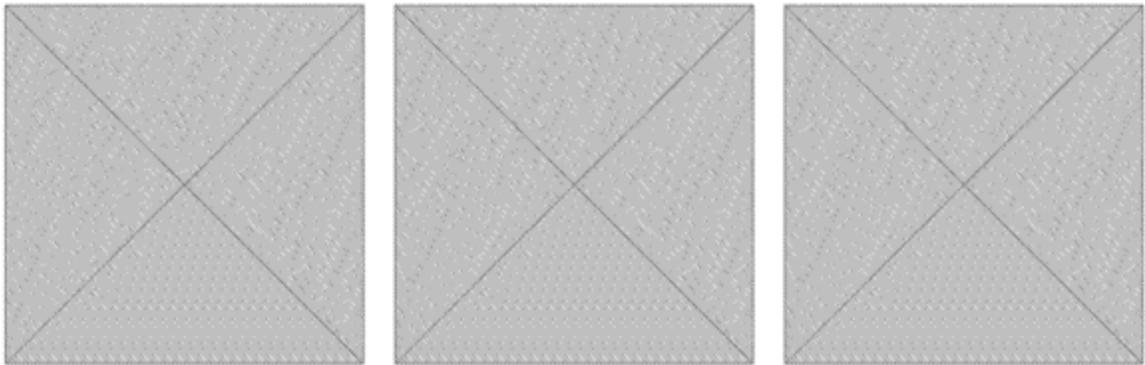

Printed on both sides with years of hard work and grit intact, this Union Jack pillow looks like it's seen it all. Its handsome poplin construction ensures it will provide your couch with that rustic, Old World feeling for years to come.
