Hi my dear Jeffrey. How are you?

Two weeks ago I was on a shooting when my mom called me and said that my older sister just died. I knew that she was in too weak, and she was in the hospital, and she spent two weeks in coma.. But I never could even imagine that one day she gonna die.

Right away I booked a ticket and got back to Ukraine.

I'm still here. I spent already the worst days in my life.. I was in my sister's funeral, saw her dead..

Tried to support my parent, both of them are soo weak right now. My mom can't stop crying (especially cause two weeks before my sister died, my mom lost her mother - my grandmother died) so my mom felt completely empty and lonely before I got here.

Anyway it's all sad.. Sooo sad.. And too late to change anything...

I'll fly back to LA next week. Cause I'll get crazy soon:(

Please Jeffrey take a good care of yourself and people you love, cause once they gone this emptiness can't fill anything:(

Sending my love,
Polina
