NOW CASTING: Miami's Elite Society & True A-List

The #instafamous Doron Ofir; Executive Producer of #RichKids of Beverly Hills is proud to announce the official casting for a new groundbreaking luxury lifestyle television docuseries.

We are extending an exclusive invitation for Miami's elite society, True A-List group of friends from the most privileged and gilded for an unprecedented television project, an elevated, beyond the velvet rope, coveted lifestyle series to redefine trendsetting taste in a reality Sex & the City.

We are shopping the Magic City's chic surrounding neighborhoods for the most wealthy, beautiful, confident, elite heartthrobs, and envied friends to become the next American super-obsession and put your social circle on a new platform.

To be considered for a starring role in

"Project Miami" you need to show us that you are that instantly adored, superhot, proto-superstar with lots of drama going on in your life; with the style, the strength of personality, and the sense of humor to be unapologetically yourself.

This is the opportunity to prove you've got the attitude and the commitment to pull off the ultimate vanity lifestyle ensemble performance production.

It's always all about you, but we want your inner circle too - your friends, your family and even your frenemies. Casting is limited to fabulous Dade, Broward and Palm Beach residents 21 and over.
