I would definitely go to the dentist. I have a few caries that really need to be fixed.
I would invest to high quality food...I also considered pole-dance class. Seems fun and good for body forming :) And there are spinal rehabilitation exercises I wanna sign up for.

I'd like to do even more, but I keep focus on studying for school exams and toefl as well.. I'm so nervous, I hope I'll succeed.

And I want to buy new iPad, because my old one is almost dead and I need it for studying
.However, I think I'm gonna wait to buy it in US. It's litte cheaper in there.
