ExhibitBPress coverage of JamSymm:sprinting study.docx

dear men

here is a quick update on our elite sprinters project attached you will find a wave of press references to the original paper; this is because John Manning knew someone at the Independent in the UK and once one newspaper goes with it, a whole bunch copy no work needed !!

all going well, beginning March 11 and ending March 21 the top two asymmetry people in the world (German and UK) with one well-trained post-doc (UK) thrown in will measure at least 100 elite Jamaican sprinters, age 16 to 28 the age of Shelley Ann Fraser, whom we hope to measure for knee symmetry et al

we will also measure a control group of average people, matched carefully for age and sex to the sprinter sample

Gordon, i much enjoyed both of your papers and have "half-responded" to each but time has been consumed by lesser matters i am sorry to say !

all best to you both
