Hi Tyler,

Yes great-- also on my end-- the NY Post is off and the Forbes is finally down in 6th position. I'll have the domains and the new press ready for you this evening. (an article on Elton John's Aids Foundation).

I'm updating content on the all the websites over the next 2 days and will be adding some news feeds onto them as we discussed.

Are you still promoting the positive Forbes piece? I haven't seen it on the 1st 3 pages. What can we do to push that?

Happy New Year

I wanted to share that NYPost is now off the first page of Google.

[REDACTED] I am looking forward to your update email we spoke about two days ago. I called you a bit earlier to discuss.

Editors are back in the office today and I'm working on the two premium placements.

Available by cell for the rest of the day if any questions Mr Epstein.

Best
