Further, Facebook has been terminating terminating the ability of messaging apps to use its social graph. The fact that it lets Skype continue to do so, shows that it does not consider Skype to be a player in this space.

Hi, attached is a 2pager about Viber, more to come later.

If you compare our traffic today (messaging and talk minutes) to skype we are already 50% of their size.

As to what you said about skype using Facebook to integrate phone book and users, we do not see it.

Thank you
