Dear Jeffrey,

I woke up this morning with the feeling that I wanted to write you.

I am really glad I met you. You are fantastic, I learn more with you than everyone else in the world. I never met a smartest person in my life. You gave me the opportunity to work, to travel to meet new interesting people and above all you gave me motivation to succeed in life! I will always be grateful for all your help. However I am going through a period of my life where I am really confused, for the separation of my parents and other problems related to myself, this is why i wanted to tell you that I prefer to be friend with you and only friend. This is because I don't want to keep secret with my friend and family and I want to conduct the most normal life. I didn't feel good when I came to Paris and I had to say to my sister that I was going to the countryside. I am writing you because I want to be completely honest with you and I can't keep staff for me. You know how much I love you. I hope you can understand my honesty,

With love,

Margherita
