my new idea of the day !

With over 50% of my friends in a divorce mode, and to further our discussion.I think it is time that we created Divorce insurance.

The day a couple would get married they would commit to a policy (10 years of monthly payments in example above) ,if their marriage terminated there would be an agreement entered into pre the nuptials, that the proceeds of the policy would be paid as directed (could not be revoked or altered)

Think of this as a modern day dowery

Over 2.5 million marriages in 2013 in the US ,crazy
