..i started with the venetian plaster on the wall, but i think i would need a helper.., the wall the wall is too rough and it goes too slow. maybe i can use a worker from here who would go in front of me with a thin layer of compound to make the wall a little smother..

..i made a sample on the wall, but the venetian plaster finish sample we made looks better...it looks much closer to the marble. the wall has texture, and if we make it shiny then it shows the texture even more..
