eric. the entertainment system is extremely problematic. extremely !! I reviewed the wiring diagram you sent , from a florida firm only drafted the LAST week in august. ??? after takeoff, i wanted to advance the awful music on the dvd, LARRY told me there is no way without getting up, walking to the credenza a, and change it at the head. this can't be right . you and i had a firm understanding that this would not happen. control from my seat. was agreed. in addition The idea that instead of using a frequency analyzer, and professional sound adjustment tool, readily available . I had to personally listen to a system that is clearly not right . made little sense. the antique lcd screen was unwatchable . as well as the loud hissing from the gaspers at altitude. made this trip uncomfortable.
