yes, and he thought he would pay 2- million , and not have to deal with it in the future, He cries because he knows it is wrong. not because he is sad .

I kept thinking.

I do think that coincidence are sometimes happening but they are super rare (as a chance for their occurrence is super small) and it should be viewed as such (not believe in them).

I just went through my emails and dates.

He replied NO re NYC house on May 12th

He usually works on a month or a quarter time frame (e.g. He usually decided to act on something and he does within a month or 3 months - like a clock).

We met 1:1 on May 19 when he told me that other people like Larry are asking for a rise and that a same might happened with BGI group.

May 22nd - Mila happened.

June 9th - I met him in Paris (with you as well) and he told me that something is happening (he knew at that time).

June 12th - a month after NO email, he sent me an email re Melinda finding out and s not being able to work together.

I think that he used Mila event to engineer the story.

That Mila did not happened, it would be some other thing and perhaps later - on August 12th.

It might be all coincidence - but when chance is so small I have hard time believing

I hope you are not finding me paranoid!
