Title: Vice President Richard Cheney, Federal Law Enforcement Luncheon, November 22, 2013

Dear Friend:

November 22, 2013

Recent news headlines underscore once again, the danger law enforcement officers face everyday. Last week's tragedy in Los Angeles left a widow and three small children in a matter of seconds. And yet, these dedicated professionals carry on day after day, year after year risking their very lives to protect us.

I hope you will join me November 22, 2013 at the annual Federal Law Enforcement Foundation Luncheon to honor and support the families of these heroes.

This year's Luncheon features a great friend of the law enforcement community, former Vice President Richard Cheney. The Vice President, along with New York's own Police Commissioner Ray Kelly will headline the luncheon along with law enforcement officers from around the Country and the world.

The Federal Law Enforcement Foundation (FLEF) was established in 1988 by a group of concerned business leaders who recognized that, despite contribution law enforcement agents make to our quality of life, their economic protection is wholly inadequate in the face of disaster.

The Foundation was originally formed to support the Federal Bureau of Investigation by providing financial support to the families of FBI agents killed in action. The Foundation now provides financial assistance to all federal and local law enforcement agencies.

So I hope you will join me. I have reserved a number of tables up front, and if you will let me know when you purchase a $500 individual ticket, I will make sure we sit together. Tables also start at $5000 each.
