[REDACTED]. I've helped you with your writing a few times. I know your style, mistakes, and common word usages. It is obvious that you didn't write much of what was written to me in your email yesterday. Can you please in honesty tell me who did?
As always, I don't have any problem whatever the answer. I just like to know what's going on.
What time is good
Thanks and have a good day in school.
