Hi,

After the paper on inconsistent deception, not really -- my graduate student decided to leave the University for personal reasons, I lacked the funding to hire someone else to continue, and the persuasiveness to convince students to volunteer (the student was on a scholarship and so could work on projects without funding).

Prof. [REDACTED] work on self-deception looks *very* interesting. I hope the project you have with him is very successful!

Cheers,
