

To: [REDACTED]
From: Houzz Updates
Sent: Sun 9/15/2013 11:07:39 AM
Subject: This Week on Houzz

View in iOS app

This Week on Houzz

Renovating a home to sell
Living in 196 square feet
Do you really need that hall?
Fashion Week trends your home can wear, too

Tell us: How would you spend ten thousand dollars on your home?

Houzz Tour: Sustainable, Comfy Living in 196 Square Feet »

Chris and Malissa Tack didn't think they were living in excess. Content in their 800-square-foot apartment, they had everything they wanted. But a spontaneous crash course in small living changed their minds. Turns out, they... more

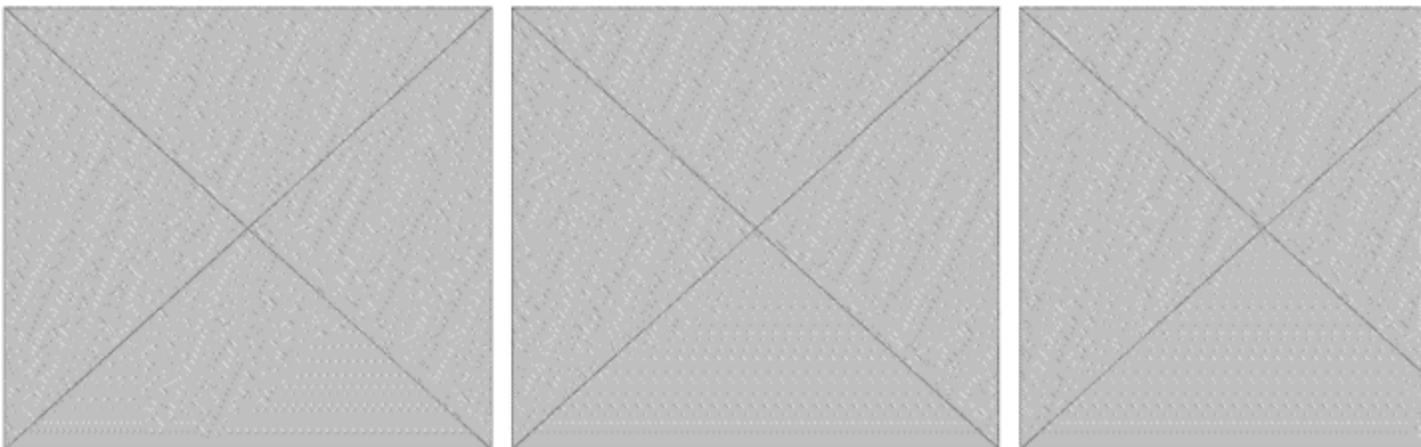

10 Things Decorators Want You to Know About What They Do »

Are you curious about what decorators do? Ever wonder where those fees go, what they do all day or how they come up with fresh ideas? Read on for answers from three professional interior decorators who offer their take on... more »

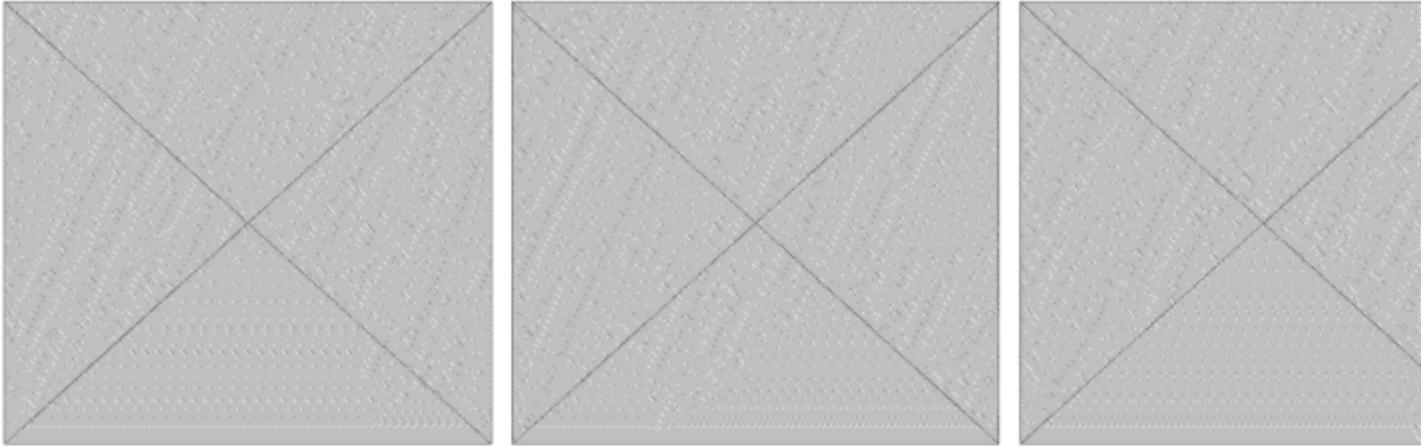

The Latest Info on Renovating Your Home to Sell »

If you are planning to sell your home, the list of potential improvements to consider before staking that sign in your front lawn probably seems endless. And the numbers can be a bit disheartening — nearly all remodeling... more »

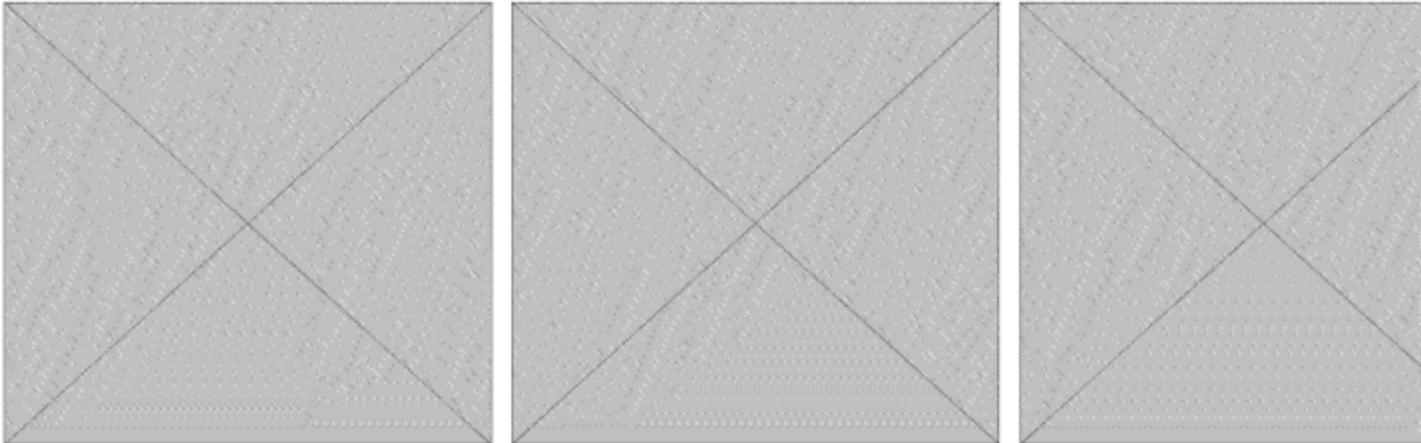

Houzz Tour: Living the Good Life on Lake Washington »

When these homeowners bought their property on the west shore of Seattle's Lake Washington several years ago, knew they had scored the equivalent of a winning lottery ticket, thanks to the views and vacation vibe of... more »

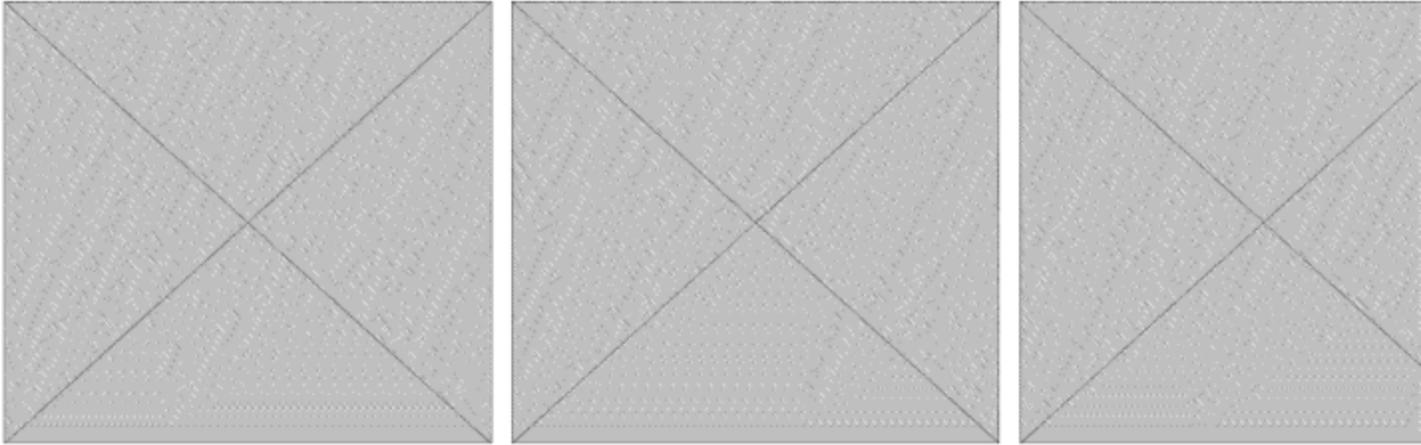

Do You Really Need That Hallway? »

What exactly makes a great design? Well, it's less about how your project looks (although it should look awesome) more about how efficient it is. "Design' is a funny word," Steve Jobs once said. "Some people think design... more »

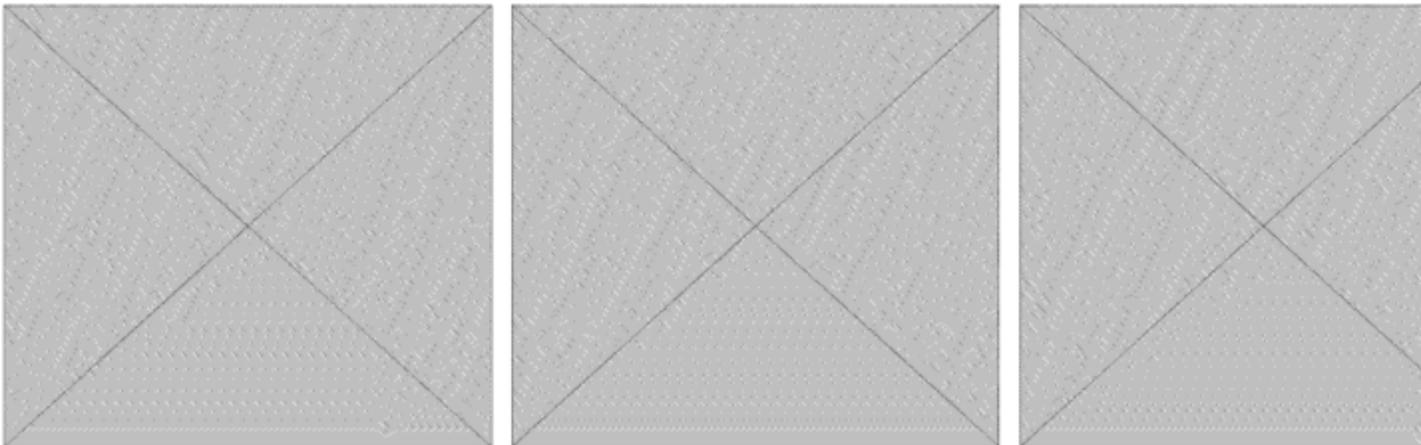

My Houzz: Palm Springs Inspiration in Dallas »

First-time homeowners Greg and Chantal Hickman are familiar with makeovers. He's a personal stylist at Nordstrom a makeup artist. The couple pulled from their design prowess to give their dated 1961 home in East Dallas... more »

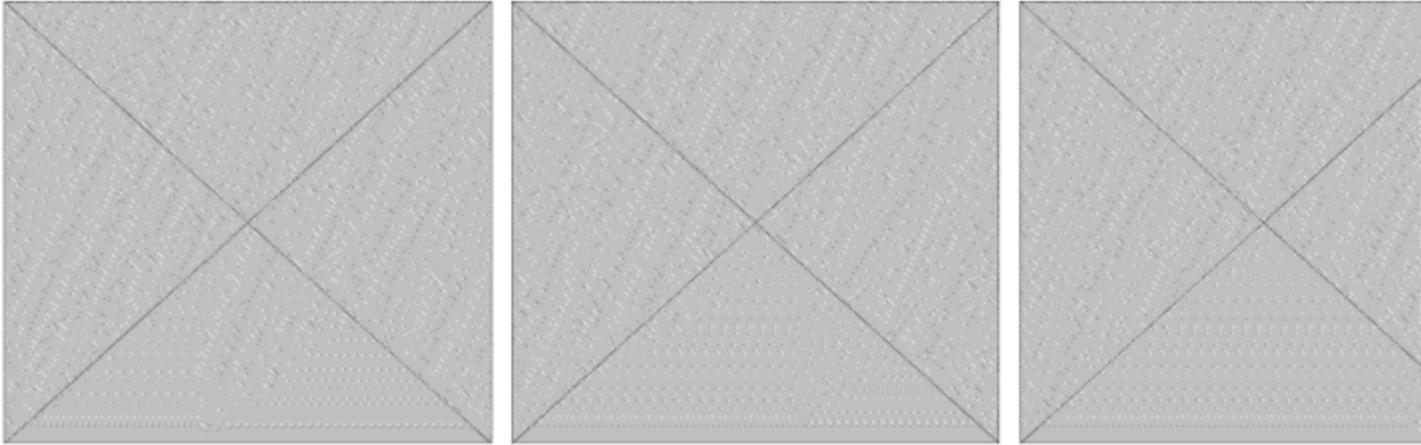

Why My Son's Room Will Be Red: An Expert Weighs In on Colors Baby »

Jude Stewart is a journalist and an author, specializing in design, color and visual culture. Her first book, ROY G. BIV: An Exceedingly Surprising Book About Color, will be released September 17, 2013. She lives in Chicago. Every... more »

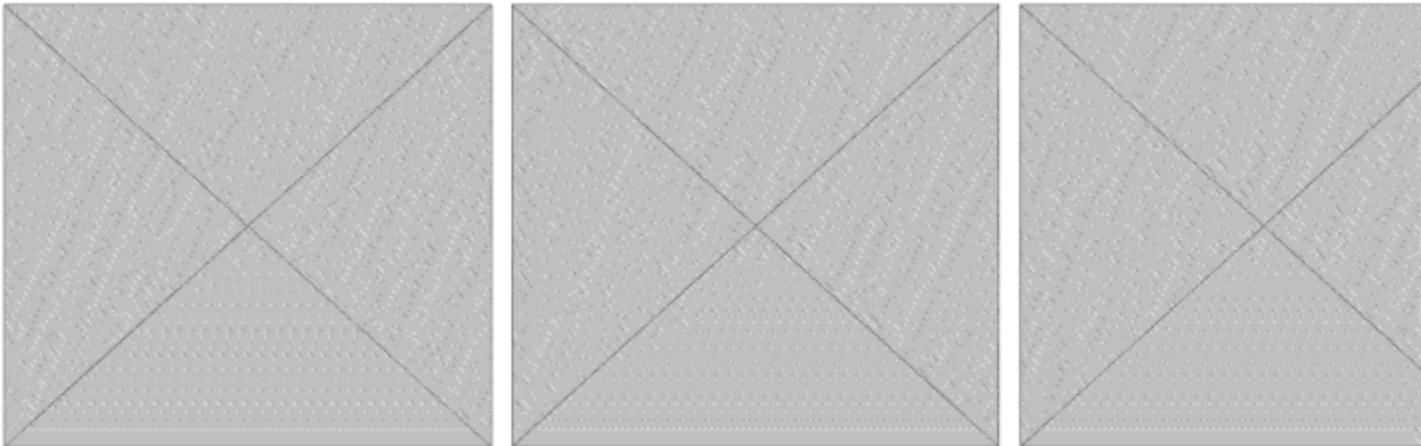

Fashion Week Trends Your Home Will Wear Well »

New York Fashion Week feels like it's been going on for a month, but the tents are finally empty, and those of us who have a coveted front-row seat can sift through the thousands of runway shots and analyze the trends... more »

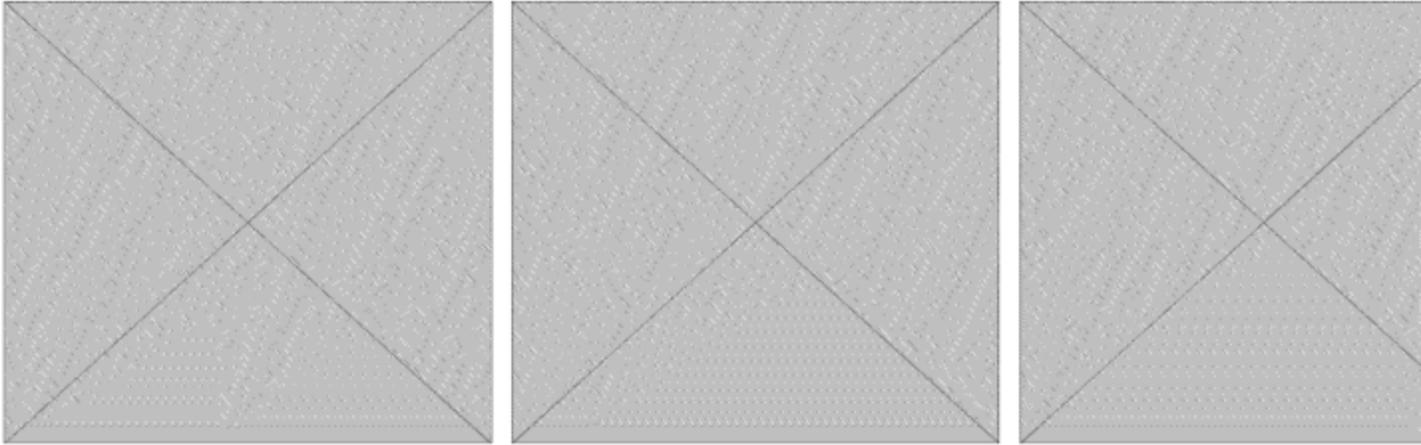

Houzz Tour: Creek Views Star in a Modern New York Home »

Typically architects work for a client, be it a family, an institution or a developer. For the Creek House in upstate New York, Marica McKeel acted as architect and also as developer, having picked up some land on which to... more »

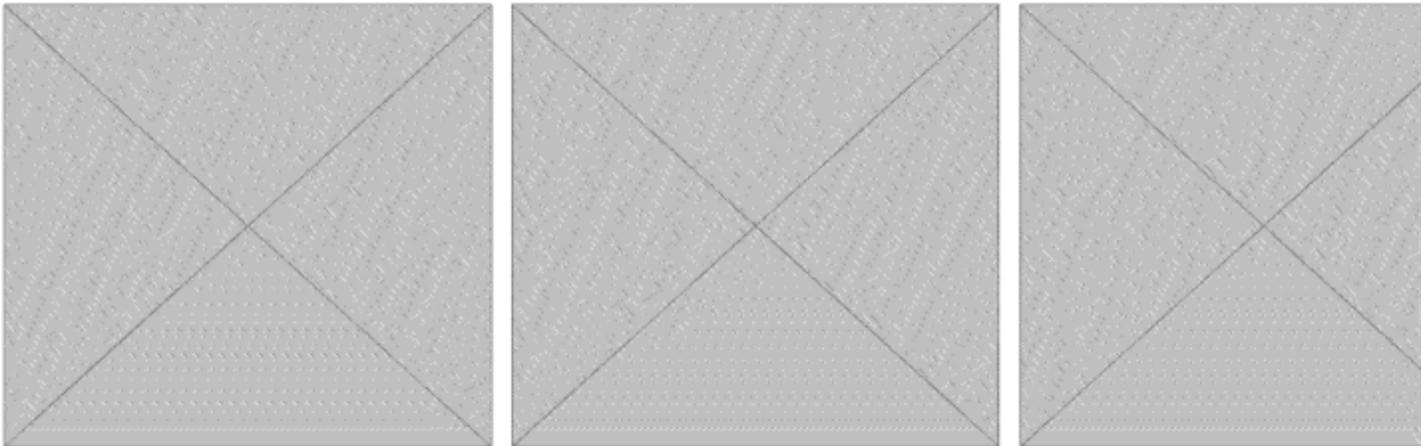

Should You Install a Urinal at Home? »

I know what you're thinking. "A urinal in my house? Really?" You probably get the whole man-cave thing that boys and girls like. Other than that, what possible benefit could a urinal offer in your house? Number one (get it?),... more »

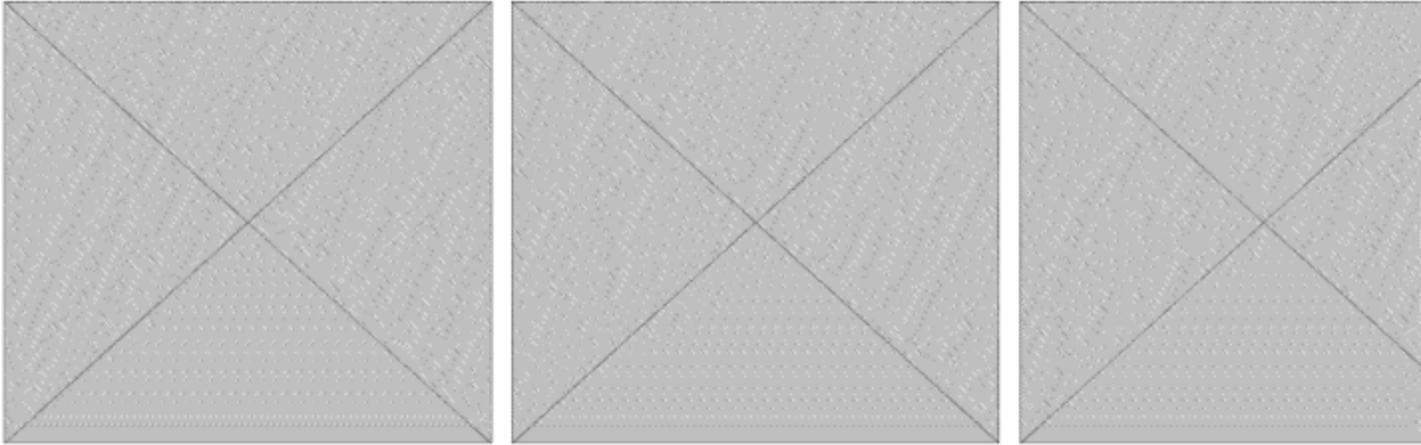

My Houzz: Creative DIY Personalizes a 2-Bedroom Bungalow »

Selena Urquhart's design philosophy is simple: "Start with comfortable, practical pieces and then add funky bits you love," she says. She applied this approach with her husband, Alun, when they rehabilitated a 1920s bungalow... more »

How to Combine Area Rugs in an Open Floor Plan »

Cattle are meant to roam free. Furniture? Not so much. Without something to contain it, furniture can end up feeling adrift. This is especially true in an open floor plan, where there aren't walls to distinguish one... more »

9 Ways to Configure Your Cabinets for Comfort »

Those of you building or renovating a kitchen face countless decisions. Just for the cabinetry you have to select the material, frame type, door style, hardware and more. I hate to add to your list of selections to make,... more »

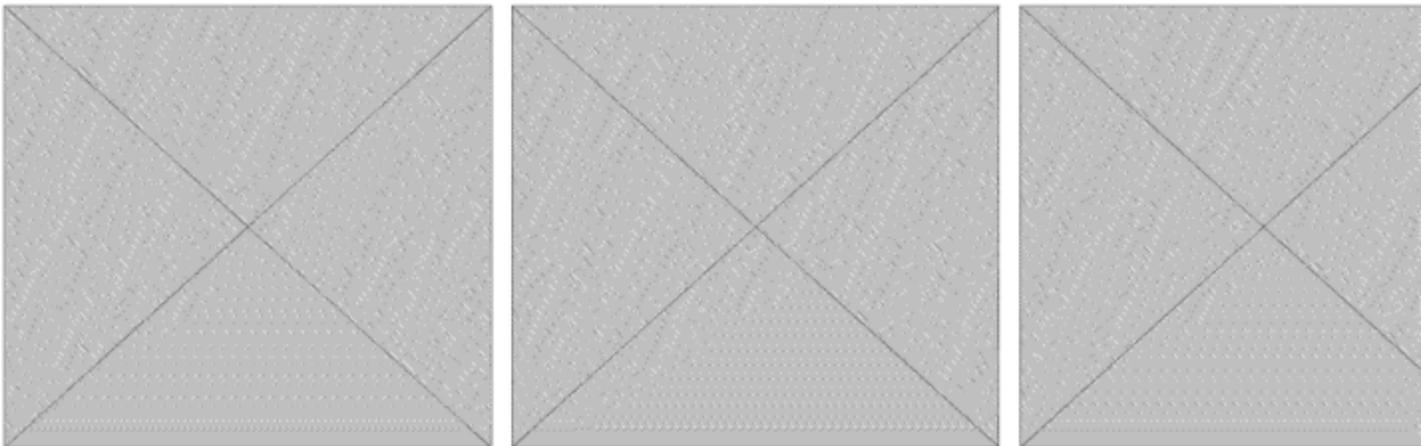

Roots of Style: Midcentury Modern Design »

Explaining the current popularity of midcentury modern home design leads us back to that 30-year stretch from 1945 to 1975 — a period of extraordinary economic growth, which produced an appetite for progressive design in... more »

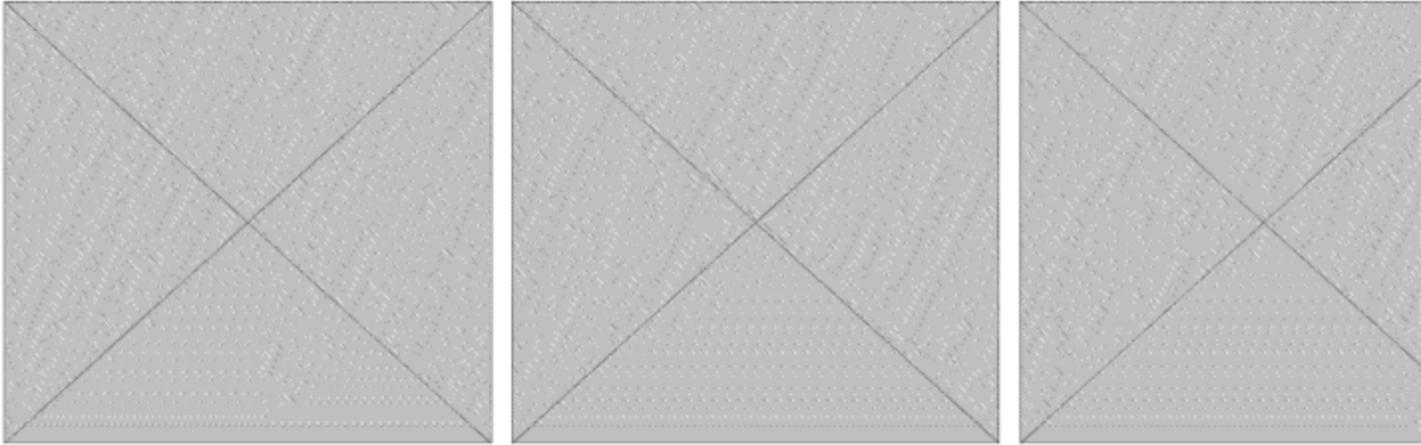

Water-Saving Landscaping Ideas for Traditional Homes »

When we think of drought-tolerant, or xeriscape, design, typically Mediterranean and Southwestern-style homes and gardens come to mind. That's because since the dawn of gardening, those climates have always required water-efficient landscaping. more »

Designing for Pleasure: A Safe and Sound Perch »

Thinking like a chipmunk is crucial if you're trying to create a place where humans will feel safe and calm. Not used to thinking like a chipmunk? A little practice is all you'll need. Chipmunks are social animals who don't... more »

Explore a Magical Restored English Garden »

In England we are blessed to be able to visit a wide range of historic gardens, from the landscapes of stately mansions to the more intimate gardens of renowned gardeners such as Lawrence Johnson, who designed Hidcote. This... more

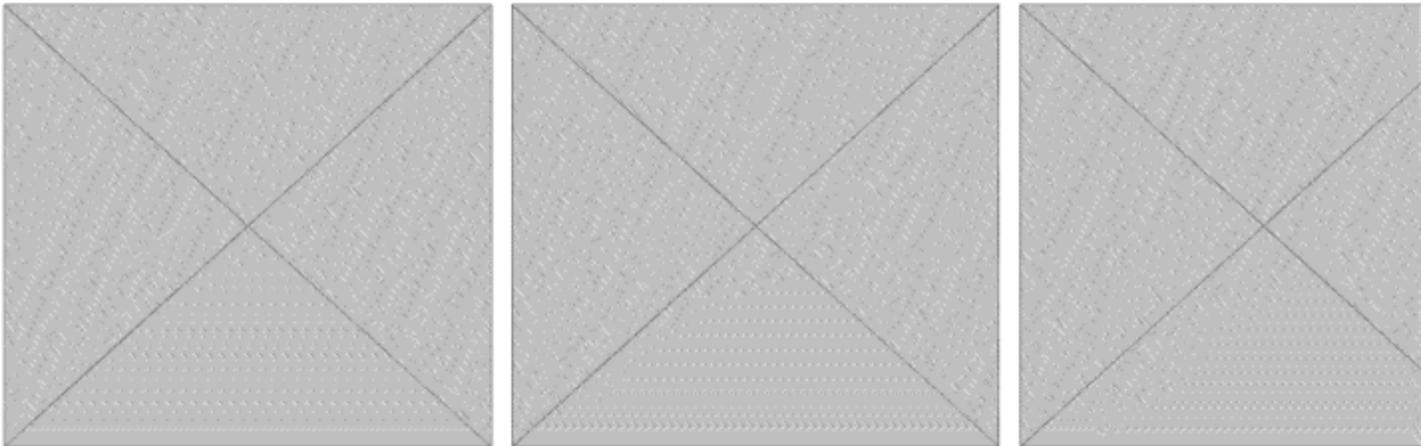

Graphic Patterns Snazz Up a Living-Dining Space Near Sydney »

The owners of this house in Sydney's Turrumurra suburb wanted to warm up the interior's sharp lines, so they turned to designers Adam Scougall and Ben Napier for help adding more personality to a number of rooms, including... more

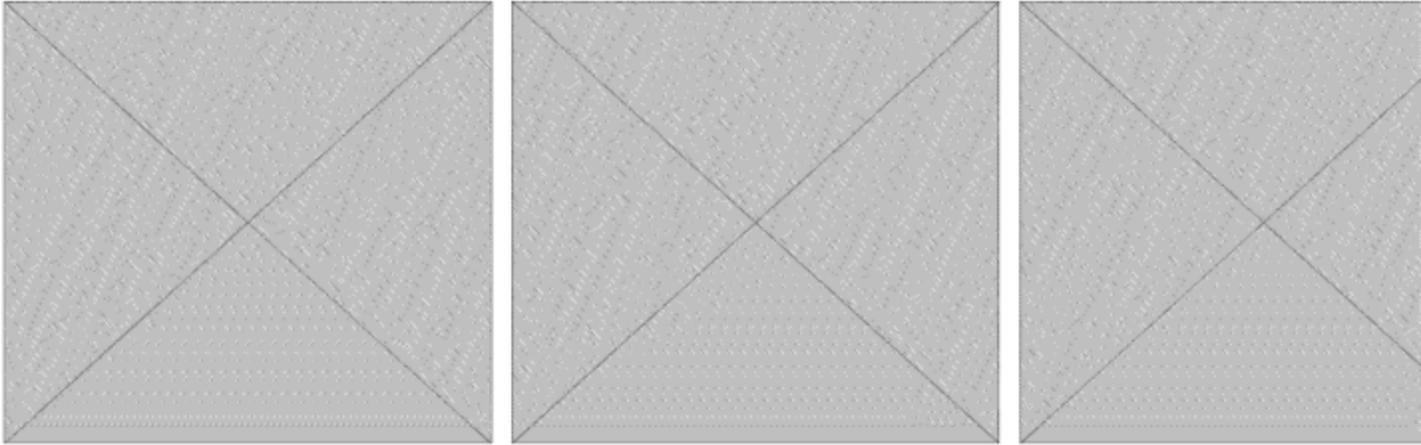

8 Design Tricks From Sunny Botanical Gardens »

If you're tired of seeing the same old temperate gardens in the magazines, let this tour of six botanical gardens from to Arizona be your breath of fresh air. I'll show you what works about the gardens pictured and... more »

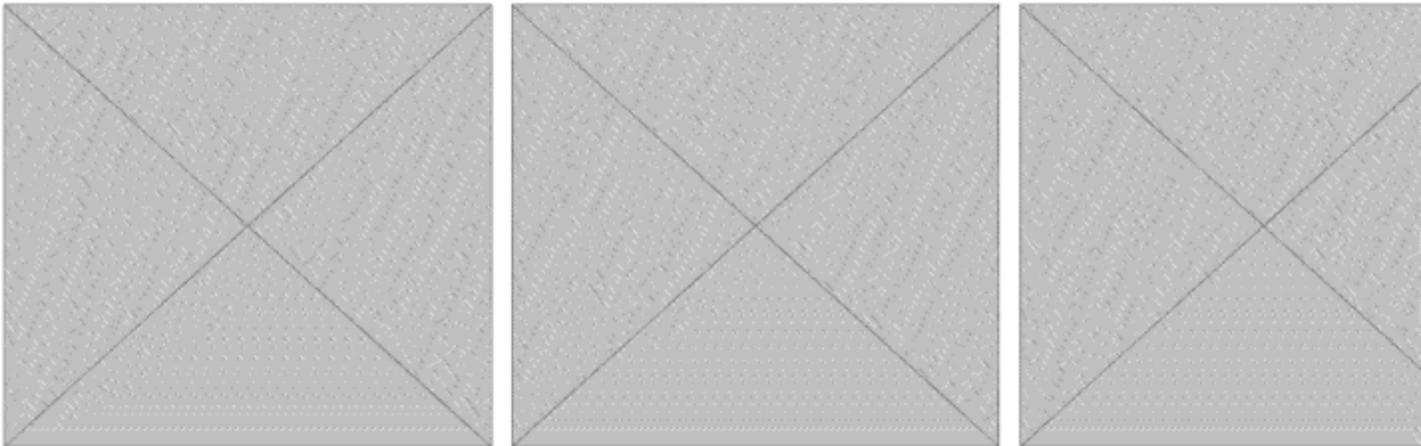

Kitchen of the Week: A D.C. Row House Honors Tradition »

Intent on maintaining the original layout of their 20th-century row house, this Washington, D.C, couple sacrificed a modern kitchen design for tradition's sake. Rather than open the kitchen to the adjacent dining area,... more »

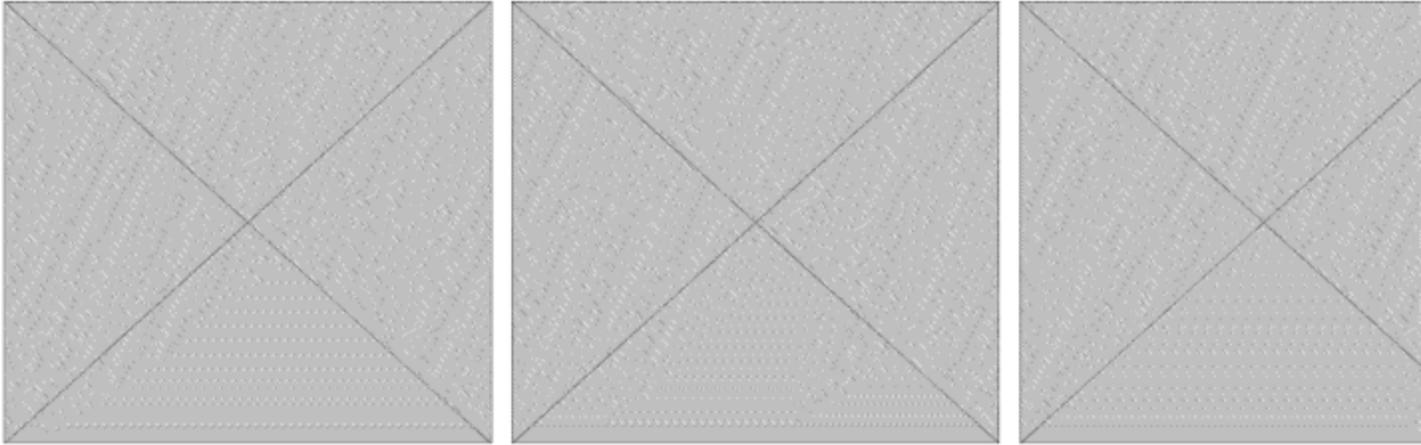

Great Design Plant: Autumn Sage Brings Color and Butterflies »

Some fans of autumn sage (Salvia greggii) will rave about its beautiful flowers. Others will praise the fact that deer rabbits leave it alone. Desert gardeners love that it will thrive underneath their favorite tree,... more »

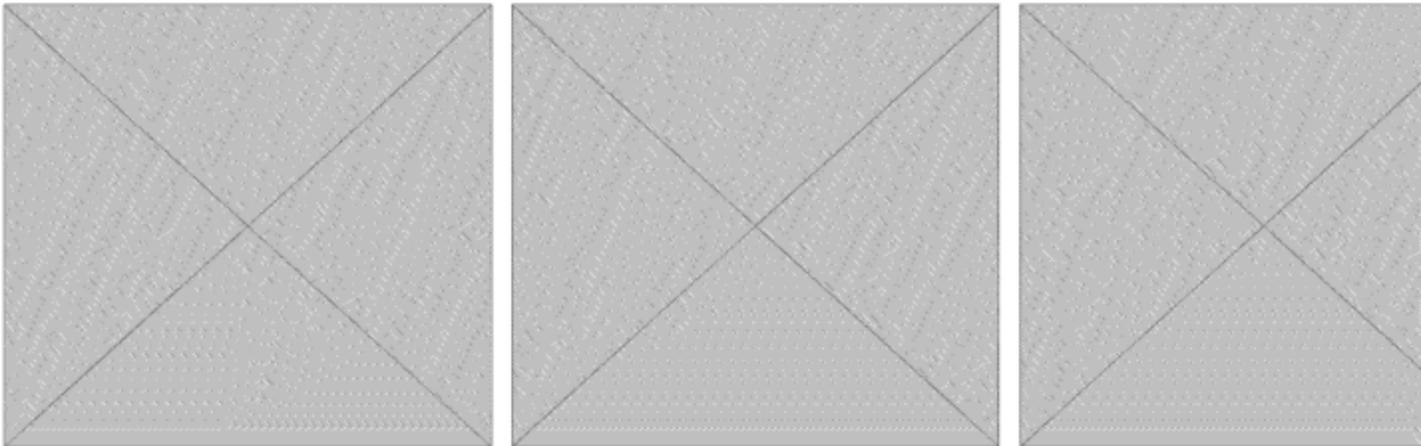

My Houzz: Warm Sophistication on an Alabama Lake »

David and Atalie Whitley have transformed their lake house into a rustic feel-good getaway, drawing inspiration from beauty of Alabama's Smith Lake and the lush natural surroundings. "We wanted to make the spaces look... more »

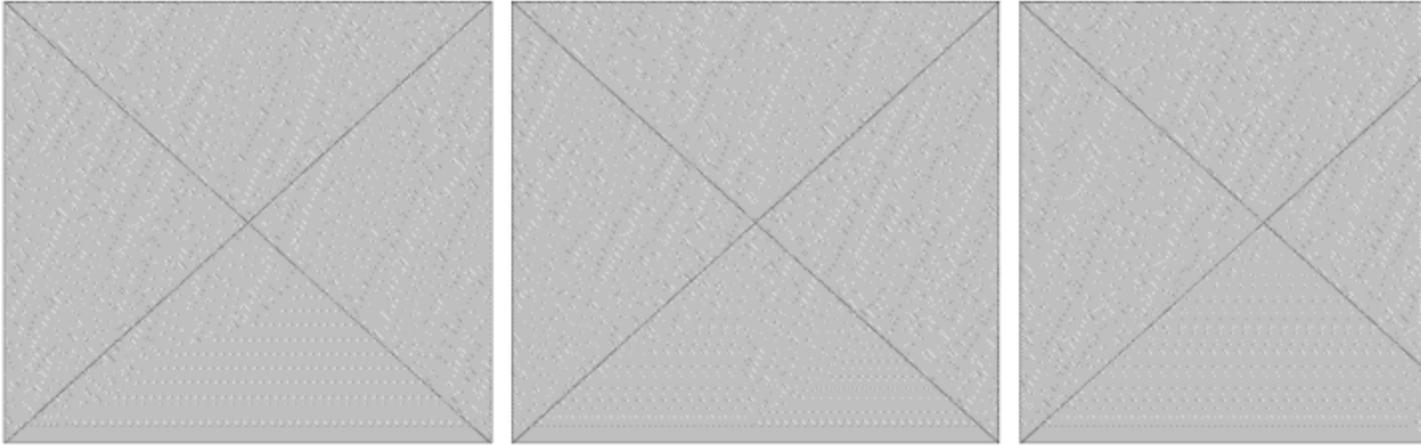

7 Great Structures for an Attractive Front Yard »

Your front yard is the transition from the rest of your neighborhood to the inside of your home, so its features are important. It's also what your neighbors see when they are out in their own yards, what passersby look at... more »

Kitchen Ideas for Bread Lovers »

I'm a carbaholic. I love carbohydrates of any kind, but if I could have only one refined kind, bread (as part of a diet that includes copious amounts of vegetables, fruits, proteins and healthy fats, of course) would be just... more »

A Dramatic Facade Makeover in Maine »

Without moving a single window or door, architect David Matero gave this coastal Maine home's exterior a dramatic makeover. The owner, a British man planning to rent the house part time, wanted the outside of the home to... more »

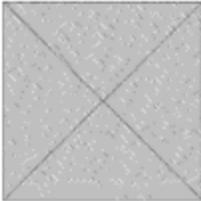

Baby Tears Mimics Moss for a Green Accent Indoors »

Baby tears is a diminutive and delicate creeping herb with tiny bright green kidney-shaped leaves and multitudes of inconspicuous white flowers when in bloom. It grows close to the ground in mats and is often used... more »

See what Houzzers are working on and add your advice! »

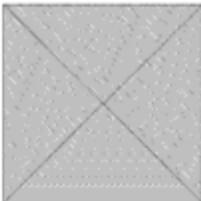

Kitchen cabinet color ideas - We are working on our kitchen and I love the original cabinets but want to strip... more »

by woolylam · 25 comments

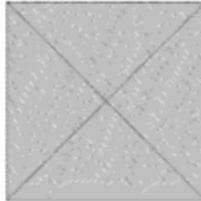

Mid century ceiling tiles - The family room in my recently purchased mid century ranch, has a great tiled... more »

by Jacob Head · 10 comments

DIY'ers Corner - Share your projects and tips here - Are you most comfortable with a paint roller in your hand? ... more »

by Emily Hurley · 13 comments

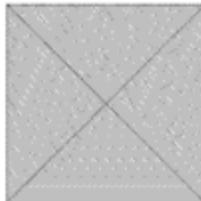

What's in your Garden? garden? Are you the type to plant according to... more »

by Jeannie Nguyen · 11 comments

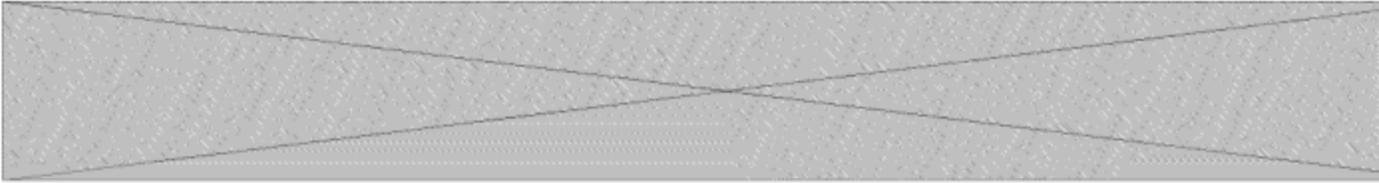

Shades of Sunday: Paint exterior lately? - Happy Houzzers! We want to know...

by Jeannie Nguyen · post comments

POLL: What would you do if you had $10,000 to spend? you had $10,000 to spend... would you spend it on? ... more »

by Houzz Polls · 43 comments

Follow  ©
2013
Houzz Houzz
Inc.

Don't want to receive
Houzz updates?
Unsubscribe.
View our privacy policy.

Houzz Inc. 310 University Ave,
Palo Alto, CA 94301, USA.