Good evening Jeffrey,

We are excited for you to see the aircraft tomorrow.

We are in good shape but will require a couple days after the test flight to detail and work off any squawks.

Please note that we could not get the cockpit camera to work. Although the company sent us a "direct replacement" unit, after removing the contents, it was not a "direct replacement", but in fact a "replacement system".

Larry has requested for us to identify how long it would take to install this new camera and I will have that answer tomorrow afternoon.

This being said, I believe you are really going to love how the aircraft looks.

I am excited for you to see it!

Eric
