

To: Jeffrey Epstein[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: Nowak, Martin
Sent: Fri 8/16/2013 12:21:31 PM

you are right: separating forces are important there needs to be a boundary between life and death separating forces uphold that boundary all chemical reactions are based on the electromagnetic force so this force can separate

but can gravity also separate? for example a molecular cloud is "separated" into a star and planets planets are needed for life based on carbon chemistry