I had a great time yesterday. thanks. Megan is a star. i wanted to ask her if SHE knew about Hedy Lamar, or how that lack of knowledge held hr back. Lamar slept with very many smart guys, and married quite a few. credited with a frequency jumping patent, (her musician boyfriend making a self playing piano and her asking to share the credit). and a sophisticated math backround, she in reality never finished high school calculus. Hearing about that black swan for years, research was politically incorrect.but yielded the white result. -- I liked your shark lobster analogy, as saving people from the sharks were Im sure done by well meaning, people , each that wanted to make a difference . --Some new work suggests that global warming and high carbon dioxide levels are really good for desert agriculture, whoops. --
