Subject: New Tomorrow Ventures

Jeffrey,

There is one other deal I wanted to send you which you can read on Little St. Jeff's.

We have an exciting media and real estate development project to create and operate next generation location based entertainment exhibits around the world.

The Company, New Tomorrow Ventures, is a partnership with Reel FX Studios and Full Sail University. The significant synergies of both organizations creates a unique opportunity to efficiently produce and monetize highly engaging film and exhibition content. I thought given your interests in film and real estate this might be of interest.

Partnerships in development presently include Abu Dhabi, Rio de Janeiro, Seoul, Mexico City, and Waikiki, as well as New York, Orlando, Miami and Los Angeles. Blackstone is currently a partner on the Waikiki project.

The team is based in Santa Monica, and travels to New York frequently.

Attached are links to the investment proposal and executive summary.

Please let me know if I can help arrange a conference call, or meeting with you and management to discuss further.

Thanks,

David
