Bonjour Daniel,

It was a pleasure meeting you yesterday. Thank you for your kind words and introducing me to your colleague. I would love to follow through with you if you are able to put in good words for me to your friends in the industry. It would be a huge opportunity for me to be given the chance to be put in front of the likes of Patrick Demachalier and owners of VS, Loreal, and Hermes. In fact it would be my dream for those to come into fruition.

I am working a lot in New York, but I will be sure to let you know when I am next in Paris as I would love to go see some more clients with your reference. However I do believe IMG is a very well renown agency and they represent me globally thus I would inform and want all jobs to go through them, even if it means that I come out in a financial loss, I could get in a lot of trouble for working without them being aware, and they are also making sure everyone I see is safe and above board.

Yet you are right in that they are a big agency and their force is sprawled across many girls and I may be becoming lost amongst the mass of models. I believe with your reference giving me the opportunities to meet clients I may not get the chance to see it would help further my career hugely.

My friend is Iris Mattos in NY and would love to hear from you.
