Hi Joscha

I can certainly arrange this. What day and time were you looking to visit?

Also, I would love to meet Henry Liebermann, or people from his group, if possible on such short notice.

Hi Joi,

My own interests are in integrated cognitive architectures (i.e. things that Josh Tenenbaum does), with a focus on computational models of motivation and affect. I am modeling the emergence of goals and decision making from a set of cognitive, physiological and social drives, and the emergence of affect from cognitive modulation.

I would also be very interested in learning more about Deb Roy's work, because I love the paradigm of stepping up the ladder of child performance as a way of understanding the mind.

Sure Jeffrey.
Hi Joscha, is there any particular person or group you'd like to meet?

Ryan, can you help coordinate this?
