1.. you said you have done little to make my or our life nicer for weeks or not what i would consider something , because you have little time , only going to the park once and so on
2. you said you have little or no free time , though every person that has a job. every person, spends more time on and at work then you spend on school.many work 6 days a week .
3 that it is important that you do as the teachers ask, because they have to sign off on your work. you would not make excuses to them

4. you don't know why I ask these questions?
5/ though you have asked 100 questions before, you can't understand why i get frustrated at just "one more question" re finding a solution instead of simply doing as i have repeatedly suggested, asked, hoped, . I didn't require a sign off however, maybe that would have helped.
