I hope you saw my follow up e-mail acknowledging payment and thanking you for resolving.

I am not looking for personal e-mails between Jeffrey and Andrew but rather any correspondence that relates to the transaction. I am just trying to gain whatever knowledge I can about the transaction particularly sine it predated me. Jeffrey made reference to them in correspondence with Andrew a few weeks ago. If there is personal communication or information in them, it could easily be redacted. Andrew has indicated that he has removed himself from this process for a variety of reasons and thus he isn't going to be dealing with those communications but has asked that I do so.

I would request that you ask Jeffrey to reconsider.

Hi Frank,

As you are aware, we are presently current on all accounts. I have asked Jeffrey via email about assurances for the future and he has not responded as yet except to say that we should bring everything current now. I will follow up.

With regards to the emails, Jeffrey indicated that those are personal correspondence between himself and Andrew and he prefers to deal directly with Andrew where the emails are concerned.

With warm regards,
Cecile

Cecile,

I want to make sure you saw my request from yesterday for some assurances here. I want to avoid any inconvenience for LSJ vessels but we need some assurances from you regarding future fuel payments and the other outstanding and past due obligations (rent) if we are going to extend any credit for fuel.

I am headed to the airport and will be available for another couple of hours before I take off and will be in my Nashville office tomorrow if you want to speak by phone.

Cecile,

With regard to fuel, as I think you know, we informally and unilaterally began selling fuel to the LSJ vessels at approximately cost (as best we can calculate) a few months ago. AYH has an agreement with Puma Energy that requires us to pay for fuel on a fairly short term basis. If we extend credit to the LSJ vessels, what assurance can you provide that fuel will be paid for timely so that we can pay Puma on time? We don't have a lot of comfort extending credit when substantial rent payments ($54,000 currently) in arrears. Help?

Subject: Payment

Good afternoon Frank,

The payment of the outstanding fuel bill has been authorized for payment. It will be processed today and Jeanne will communicate same to Leah in the AYH office.

I think you have been great about getting the information to me that Jeffrey has requested and I appreciate it. I know that we are both in the middle of this and, to the extent possible, I will facilitate getting things worked out on my end while you continue to provide the information relevant to the AYH property and transfer of the property in 2007.

With warm regards,

Cecile
