leon, I want to memorialize what I propose, so there is no chance for a misunderstanding in the future. First , there are no guarantees , involved.,none . If that is what you prefer then a contingency arrangement , not dissimilar to other legal structures could be suggested. ie a range of payment based on total success. , 50 down to 33 percent of result. A very large number , but I am willing to consider it. Though i introduced carlyn to you , i also made clear at that time, that a high level person or firm would be needed after that , and probably cost around 5 million per year. Eileen was the only person brought on board and only months afterwards , your choice,. I was not consulted. The probematic issues were pointed out four years ago. Again i was not consulted nor asked about it. my friendship with you is too important to me . and am growing concerned about putting that unique relationship. in jeopardy. I am grateful that you remembered your promise re the prior investment. I believe the way to look at the situation is more of a risk reward analysis, rather than you thinking you are buying a guaranteed solution.there are still many potential unknowns, you need to decide whether the investment , in my time and your money is worth it to you .
