Subject: strategic?

there are 3 or 4 other very senior people (integral to products) and maybe more who would be interested in joining steve immediately if he went to apple.

they are from software and hardware groups.

not sure if that is worth a mention or if it complicates the issue too much it would be a very serious blow to msft.

these are the people he supposedly "wasn't collaborating" with...ironic, no?

interesting that apple doesn't view MSFt as competitors since they believe the MSFT products are years behind.
but MSFT views apple as the enemy.

anyway, thought I might add this in case you see an opportunity to bring it up.
