Additional info re Philip – but it is not nearly as interesting as the last one I send you. Read it – you will like it.

He is a friend and we can visit him any time in SF.

There are a number interesting points about second life – from the fact that a number of countries started embassies on the second life to companies launching products. Of course, sex was another and huge part of a second life. Some people started leaving and working in a second life, earning up to few M per year (in US$) from second life.

Some people predicted to have projector of a facebook, but this never happened. Second life suffered a huge setback 2 years ago and it never fully recovered.

Still it will be super interesting meeting Philip – no one knows more about selling and trading virtual stuff worldwide than him

He visited me in Seattle last year and I invited Melanie to join for a dinner. I think she liked him a lot as well.

Talk to you soon
