I spoke to John and Jim (the people who Zuber originally recommended). They say they definitely cant do it. If it was walls they would be able to immediately but they say they cant do it on the floor. They gave me the quantity I would need and recommended I call Suzanna at Stark who they had already spoken to regarding what I wanted. Suzanna is going to speak to the person at the top of the flooring department and contact me in the morning. John and Jim had also said they have no idea how this would be possible to get on the floor without it slipping around unless we glued it to the stone. I phoned Zuber, the lady Fern told me she has no idea (!) so I told her to get written instructions on how it would be installed and get them to me by tomorrow. I will keep calling them until they do.

In the meantime I went to Edelman Leather in the Design Building and asked who they use for their leather flooring. I phoned the contact they gave me. His name is Karl Szadock. He says he installs all kinds of materials on floors and would be able to come and look at the stairs tomorrow morning. He will then go to Zuber to look at the material as they wont let me take the sample.

Would it be ok if he comes to the house tomorrow at 11am?
