

To: jeevacation@gmail.com[jeevacation@gmail.com];
jeeproject@yahoo.com[jeeproject@yahoo.com]
From: Houzz Updates
Sent: Sun 4/21/2013 1:42:06 PM
Subject: This week on Houzz

View in iOS app

This week on Houzz

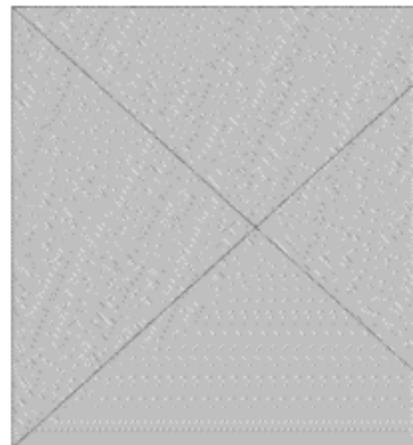

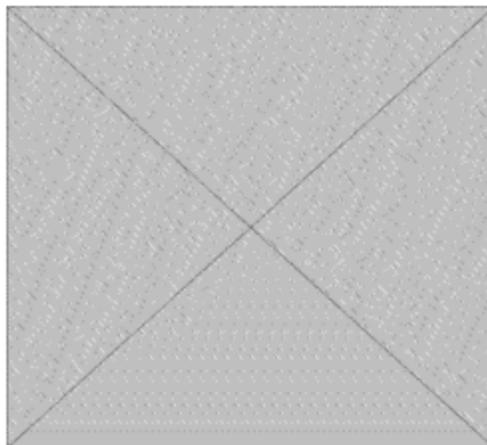

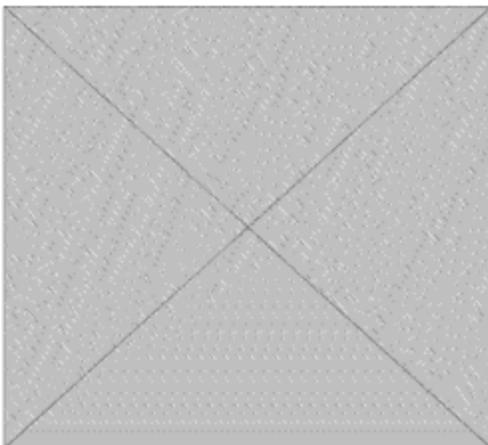

Houzz needs your help!

We've been nominated for TWO Webby Awards. Please help us spread the Houzz love:

Vote for Houzz for best website AND Vote for Houzz for best iPad app.

Kitchen of the Week: Grandma's Kitchen Gets a Modern Twist

Turquoise stained flooring, a bright yellow wall and crisp, modern cabinetry — you might not guess this was once Grandma's kitchen. Architect Mark Lawrence inherited this house from his grandparents, and while he looked forward to owning a... more »

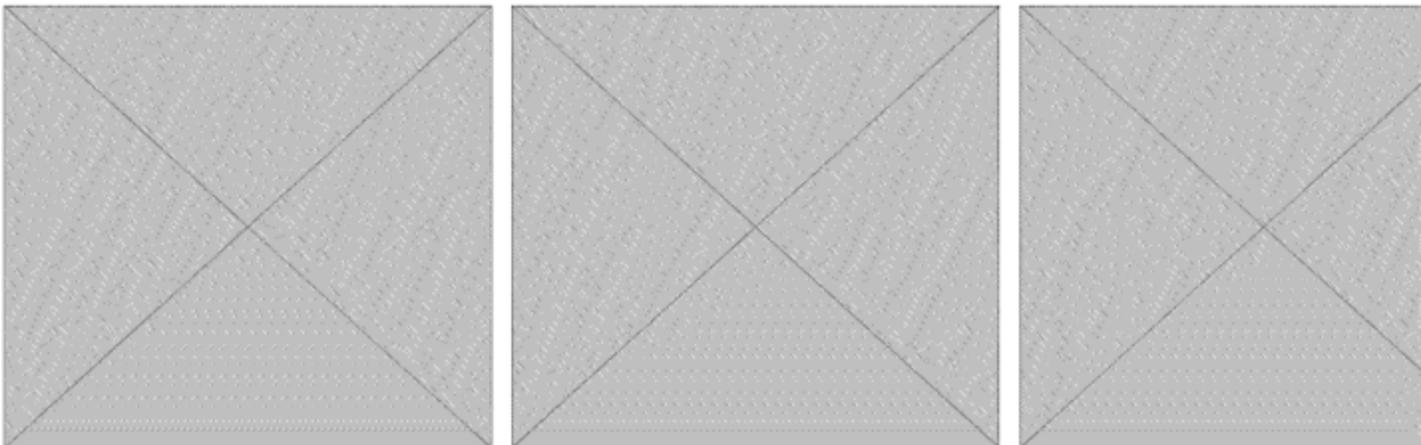

My Houzz: History Resonates in a New Washington Farmhouse

After living in a mobile home on their central Washington farm for 18 years, Cari and Greg Horning and their growing daughters needed an upgrade. The couple had planned to raise the roof for an addition, but they ran into a number of building... more »

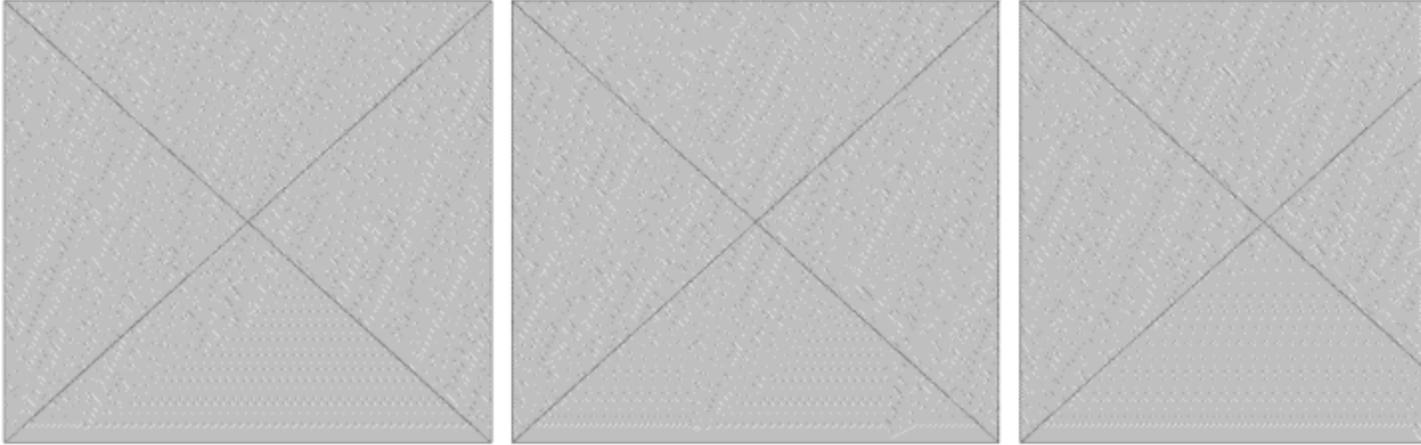

11 Elements of the Perfect Sunroom »

Sunrooms support leisurely living and increase square footage — often with lower construction costs than a fully finished room. If you're thinking about someday adding a sunroom or turning an existing space into a sunny retreat, here are more »

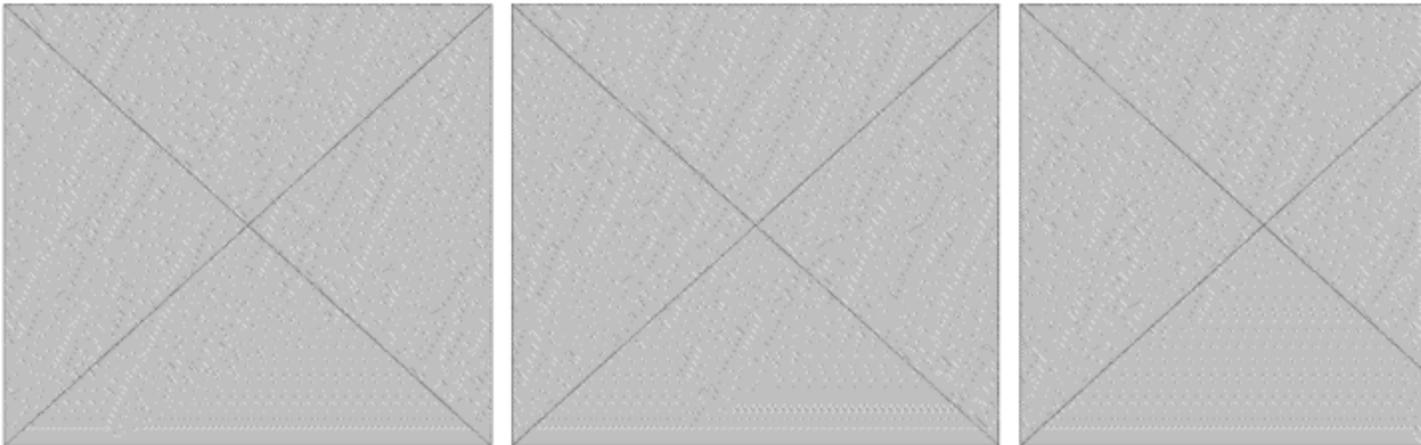

My Houzz: Wondrous Steampunk Style for a Massachusetts Victorian »

Bruce and Melanie Rosenbaum are fans of steampunk style, which blends elements of the steam-powered Victorian and science fiction. Imagine an early-1900s lathe machine repurposed to create plasma light art. Or a ray gun made Victorian-era... more »

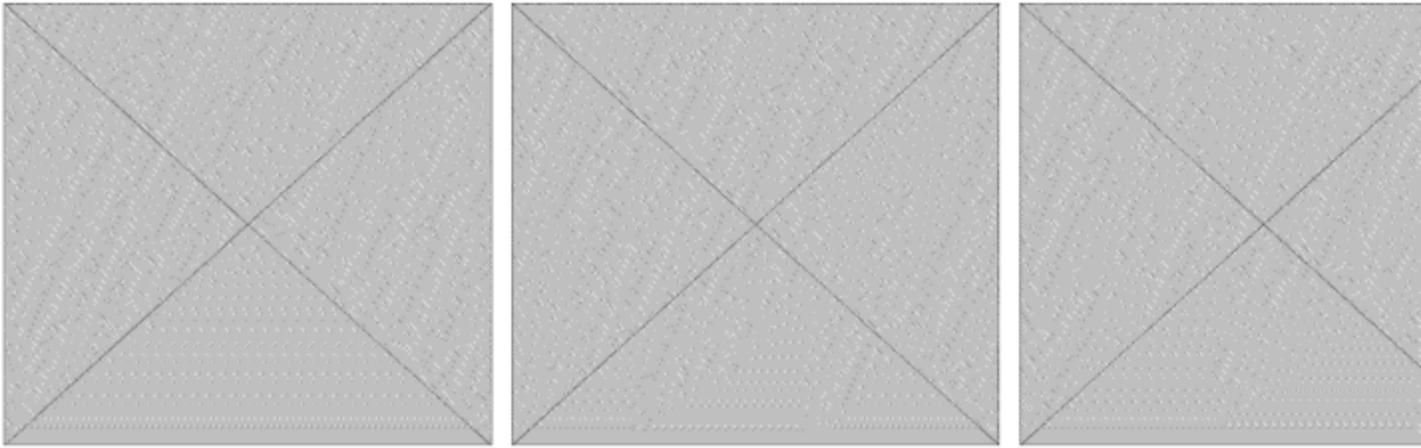

What's Next for Our Homes' Exterior Design? »

Humankind's approach to living space has always been influenced by the basic necessities of life: shelter, protection, and comfort. But how this has affected the external expression of living spaces has changed enormously over time. As s... more »

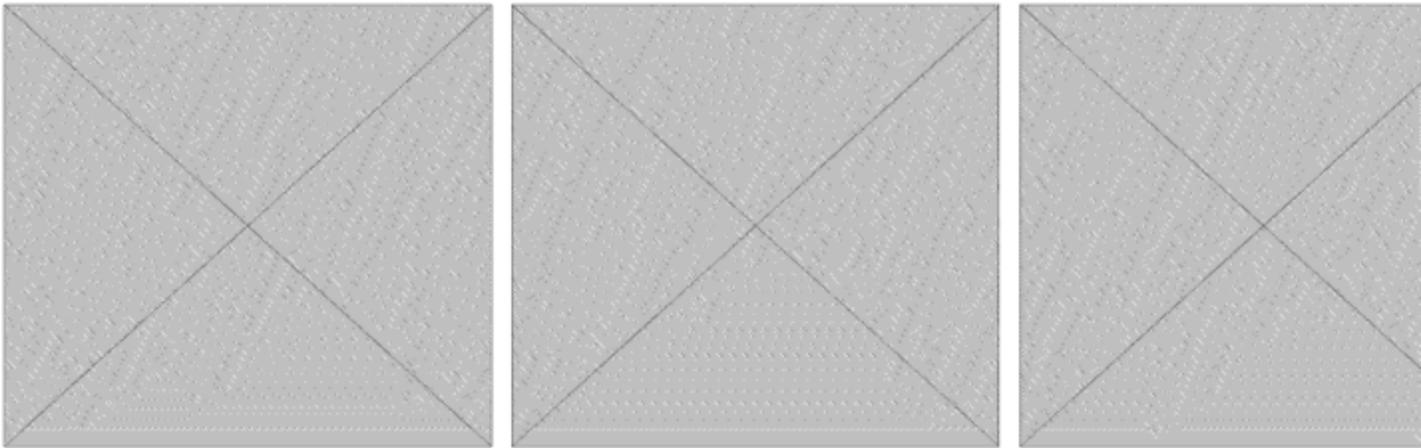

50 Dog Photos Worth a Wag »

We asked for your best photos of your dogs, and the images are still galloping in like unleashed corgies. As of this v... you've shared more than 640 great photos and stories, each one a treasure. Here are 50, the most we can show at... more »

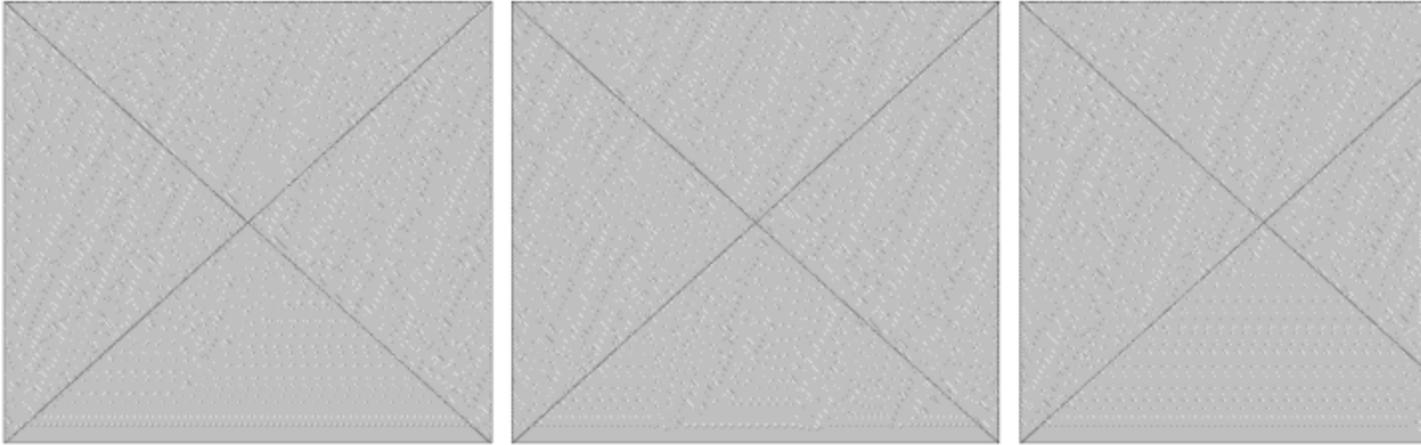

My Houzz: Thrifted Chic With Art Deco Touches in Brussels »

Living in a rented home where painting is restricted posed a particular problem for color specialist Corinne Kowal. E...
online-shopping savvy and an ability to reimagine found furniture, she gave her home splashes of color and eclectic...
more »

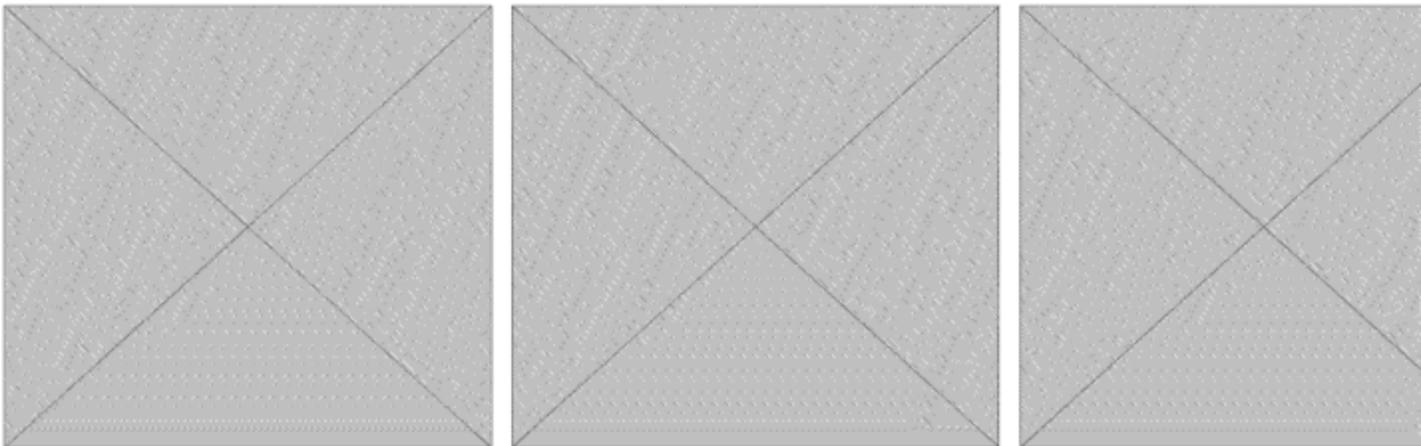

9 Outdoor Lighting Schemes That Get Universal Design Right

Exterior lighting is just as important as an interior lighting design. Universally designed exterior lighting ensures a sm... transition between indoors and out when the evening rolls in. Well-executed exterior lighting design also makes all...

Houzz Tour: Ranch House Extensions Suit an Atlanta Family »

When shopping for a new home with remodeling plans in mind, bring your architect house hunting with you if you can. Architect Frances Zook checked out her clients' top real estate choices with them to see which one had the best potential. to... more »

Color Your World With Otomi Embroidery »

The Otomi are a group of people indigenous to central Mexico. Their traditional embroidery includes colorful, simple patterns of the natural world — flowers, rabbits, deer and trees — against a natural white cotton background. And it's gorgeous. more »

8 Gable Homes Reshaped for Modern Times »

Previously I've looked at how the traditional gable form has been used in modern residential architecture. The use of the traditional form — what is the most familiar expression of house and home from childhood to adulthood — in modern architecture is more »

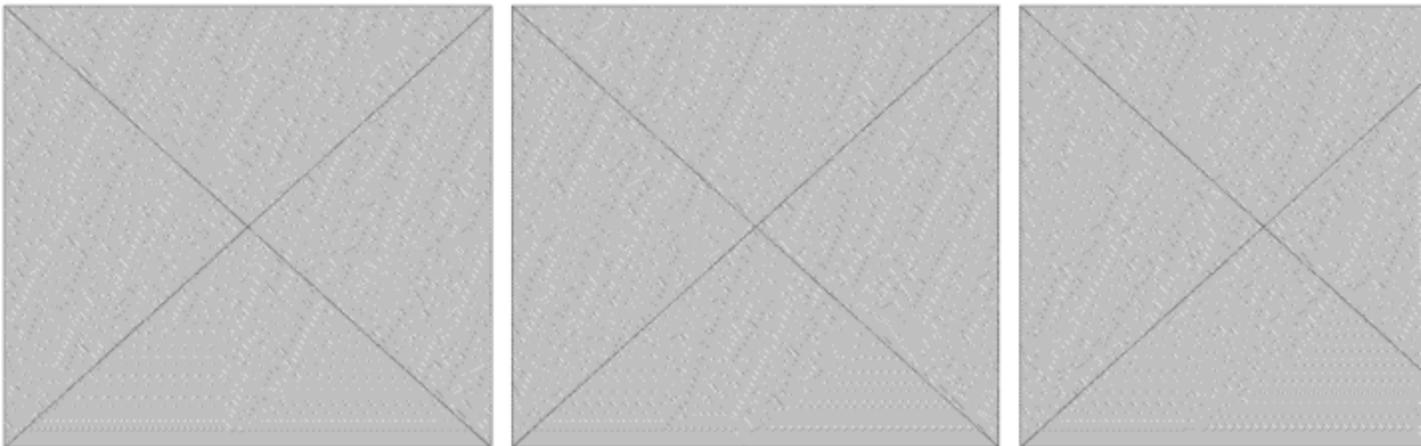

My Houzz: Artistry and Craftsmanship Create a Heartfelt Home »

Beautiful weather and Pacific Coast views enticed Robert and Phyllis Frank to choose Cayucos, California, as the location for their new home. But then the house became something to admire on its own, thanks to its detailed design, heart of »

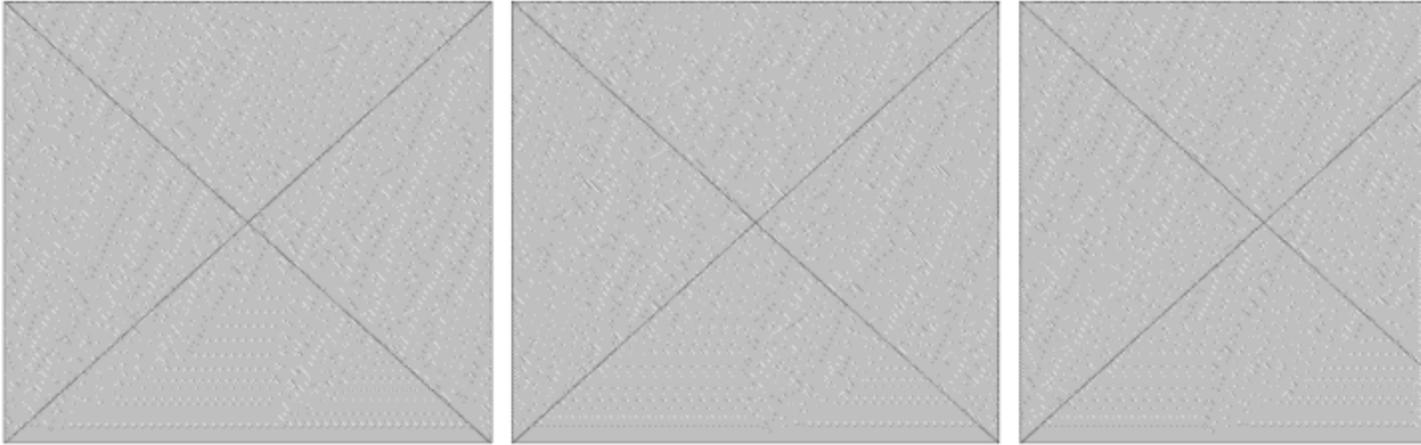

Flying Colors: Stained Glass Through the Ages to Today »

Stained glass, whether actually stained or enameled or painted, can do more than decorate. It also can tell us a story, block out an ugly view, bring in needed light or even block out too much light. Whatever its intention, stained glass may be interesting... more »

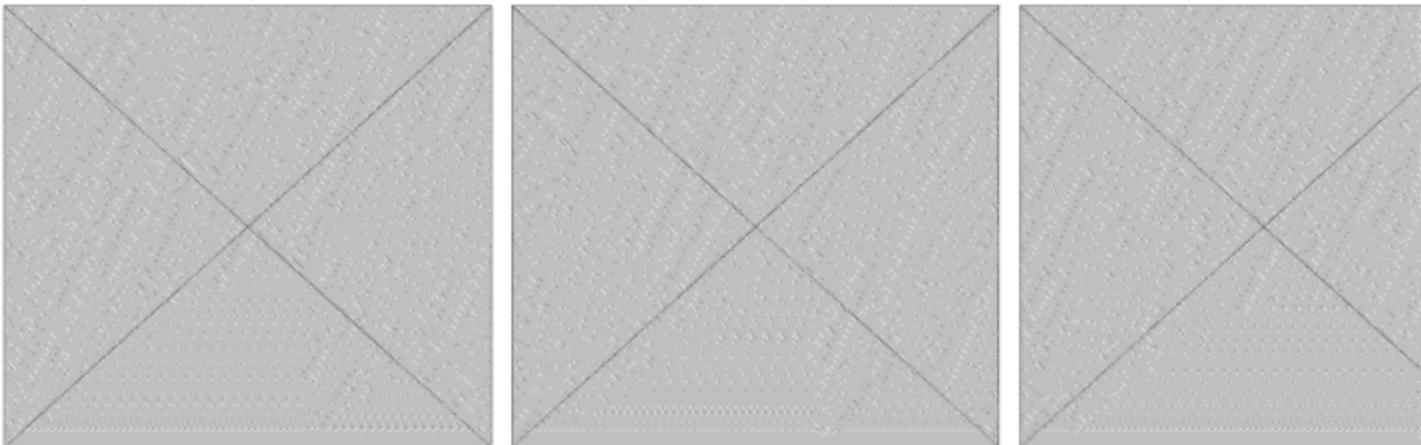

Outfit a Ranch Remodel in Updated Style, Top to Bottom »

Ranch homes come in many shapes and sizes, from the petite early ranch homes of the 1940s to the atomic-age ranch homes with their high-pitched ceilings, sliding glass doors and patios, to the sprawling ranch homes of the '70s. If you are remodeling... more »

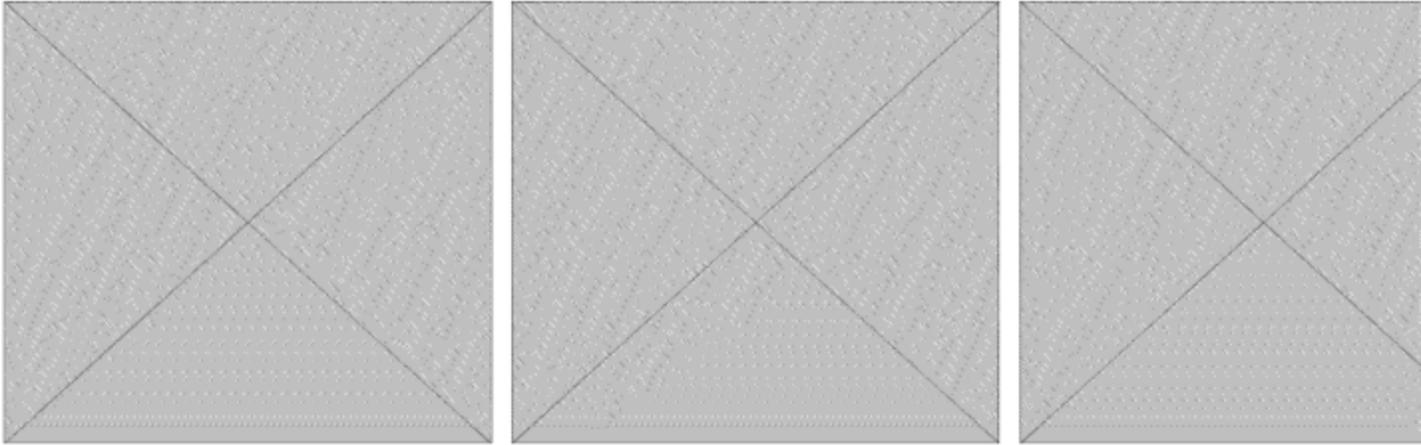

Edit Your Photo Collection and Display It Best — a Designer's Advice »

A couple of weeks ago, I was standing with my client, staring at the blank wall adjacent to her entry. The room itself already complete, but we had not yet figured out the wall space. We were playing with the idea of hanging one really large... more »

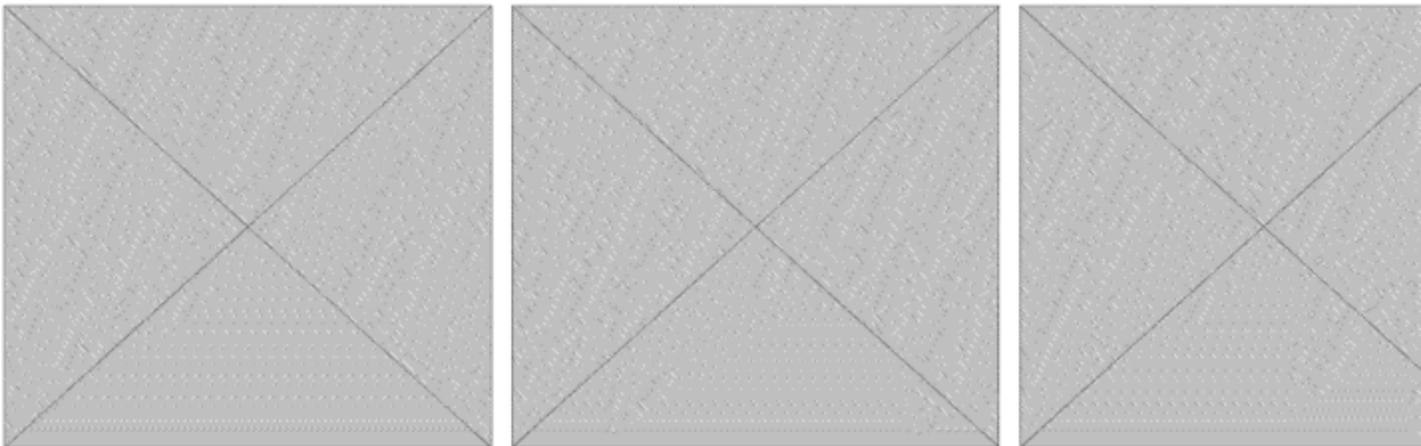

On Trend: 9 Captivating Lights to Energize a Room »

Sometimes a lamp needs to be more than just a lamp. Paging through your average catalog or browsing a home store tends to yield the same results: average table lamp, floor lamp or ceiling fixture. But designers have taken notice and providing... more »

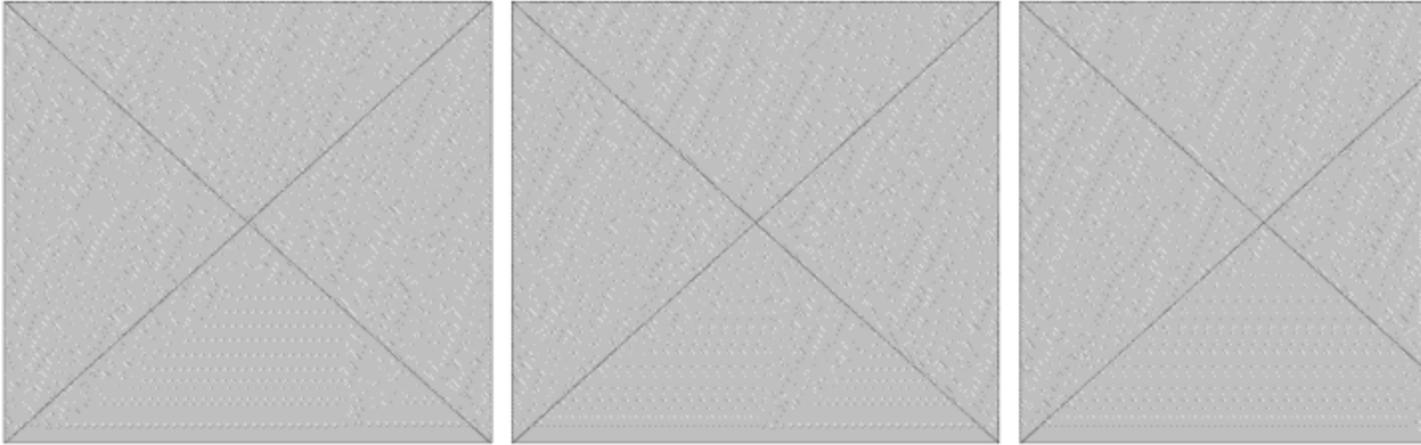

6 Ways to Rethink Your Patio Floor »

Dreaming of making over your patio? Start with a solid foundation. Begin your planning process with this quick guide to patio flooring options — estimate costs, get to know the process and learn which materials are primed for your DIY projects... more »

5 Sweet to Spirited Pink Roses for an Enchanting Garden »

Pink roses are so charming and endearing, softening any garden with their pastel hues. Pink roses signify thankfulness, happiness, admiration and joy, making them treasured tokens for celebrations like birthdays, weddings and showers... rose... more »

Polish Your Bathroom's Look With Wrapped Tile »

Wrapping tile around a tub or shower's curves and corners is a wonderful touch that adds a lot. This technique makes it look like a piece of tile folds around a corner, as the same size tile and pattern are used. If the tile has veining or... more »

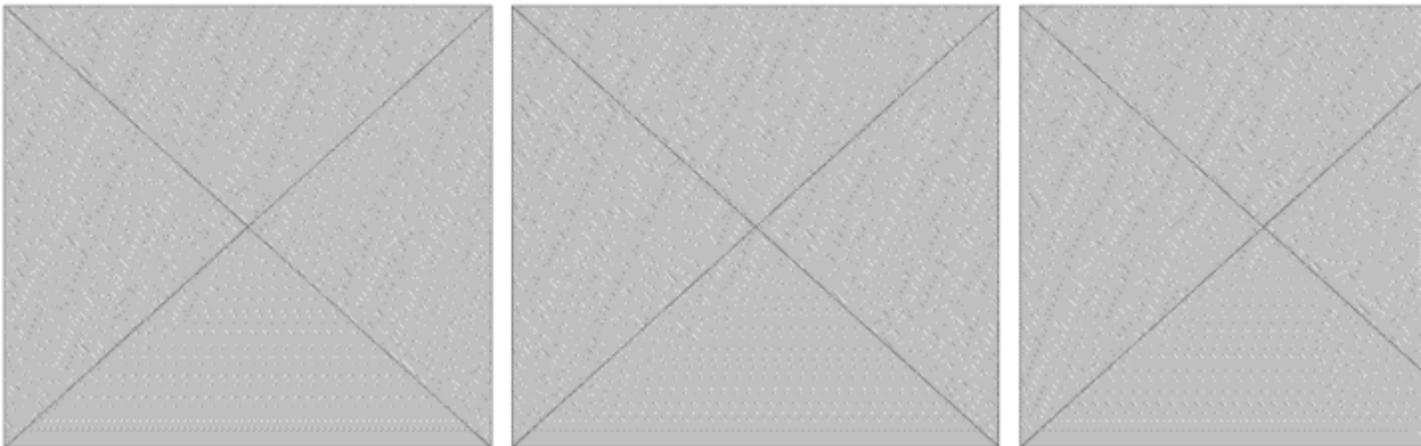

Is Your Garden Minding the Viewing Speed Limit? »

Imagine you're the landscape architect for the highway department. You're stuck for ideas for a new stretch of the highway, so you click your browser shortcut, head over to Houzz and land on a cute-as-a-bug's-ear window box arrangement. Warning!... more »

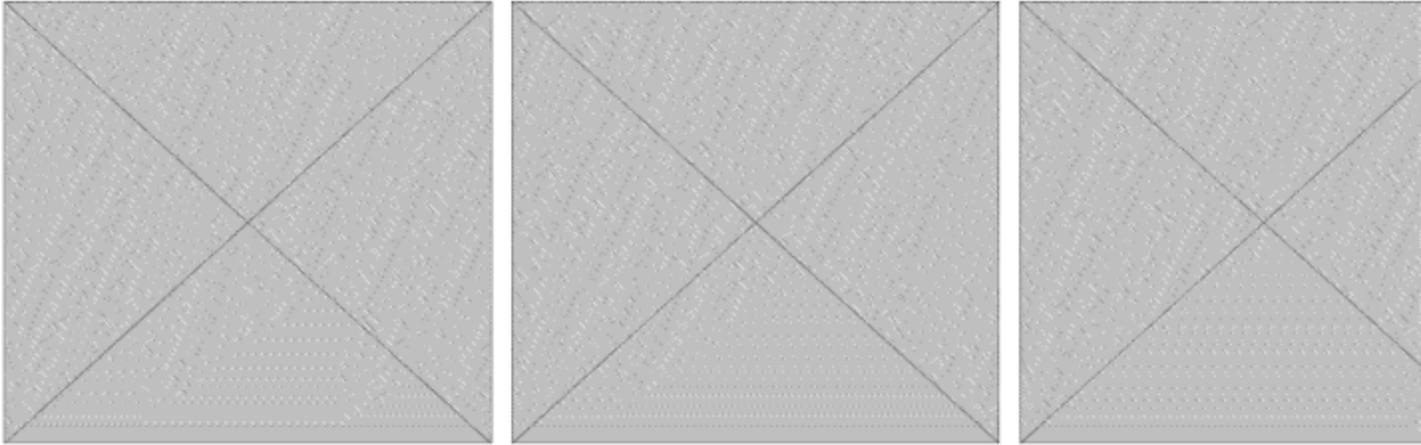

8 Wine Cellars Overflowing With Artful Storage »

Everything about wine is an art. From the making of it to the packaging of it and even the displaying of it. If you collect bottles over time, you're left with a delightful problem: What do you do with your growing collection? Before you start more »

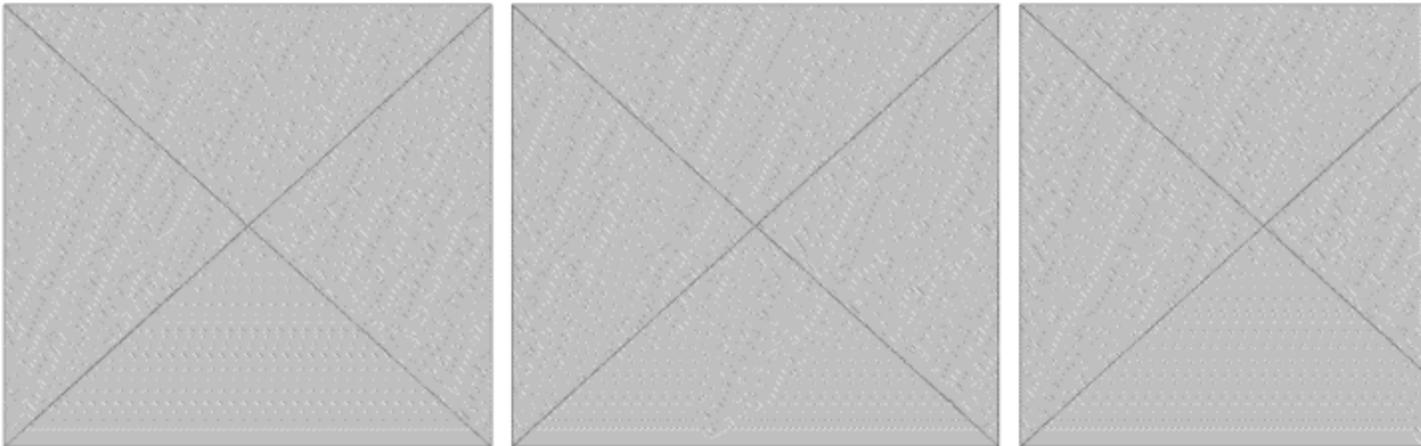

Guest Picks: Tools and Accessories for Inspired Spring Cleaning »

Spring is the perfect time to spruce up your cleaning closet, as well as the rest of your home. Though I'll probably never have one of those immaculate utility rooms that raises cleaning to an art, I don't see why I can't indulge in a few spe more »

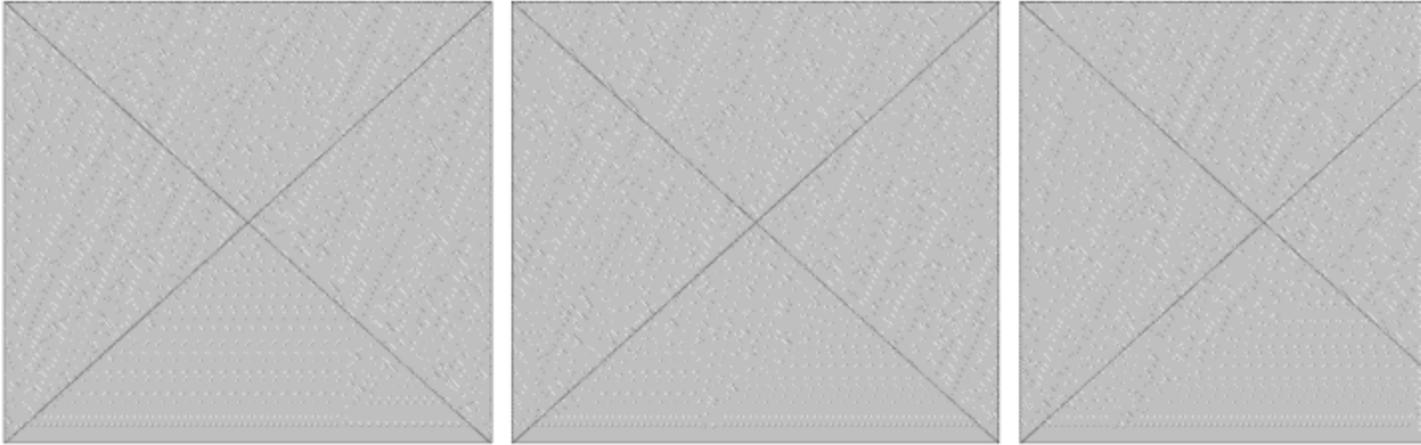

Hot Uses for Red Around the House »

Red is exciting. It draws attention. From red hearts to sexy dresses and little red sports cars, this color can get the party racing. But it can also be associated with anger and warning — indeed, it is deeply ingrained in us to associate... more »

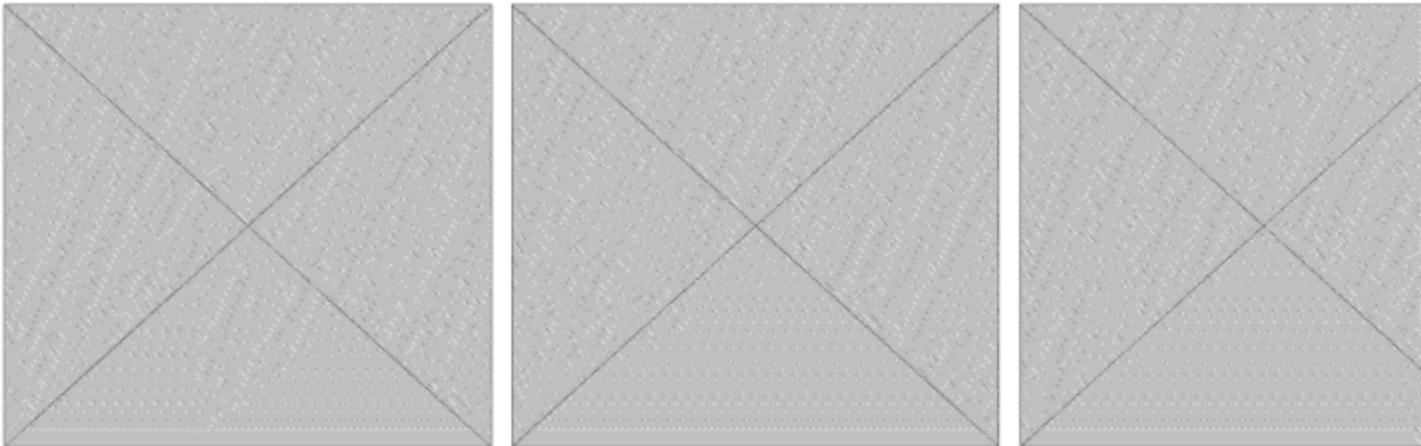

Summer Crop: How to Grow Blueberries »

Ornamental, versatile, edible, and highly nutritious — blueberries tick all the must-have boxes for a top landscape plant. With their pink-white spring flowers, blue berries through the summer, and red or yellow fall color, they make a three-season... more »

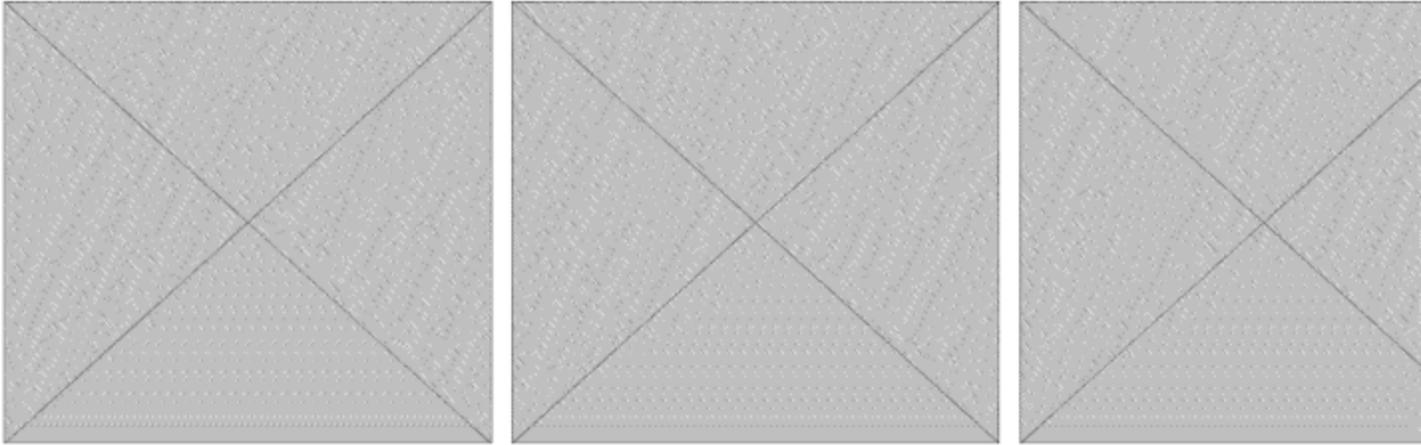

Want to Live by the Water? What You Need to Know »

The romantic allure of waterside living is undeniable, but back in America's colonial times, no one wanted to live on the coast who could afford to live inland. The coast was fraught with danger — storms, flooding, disease and wind..

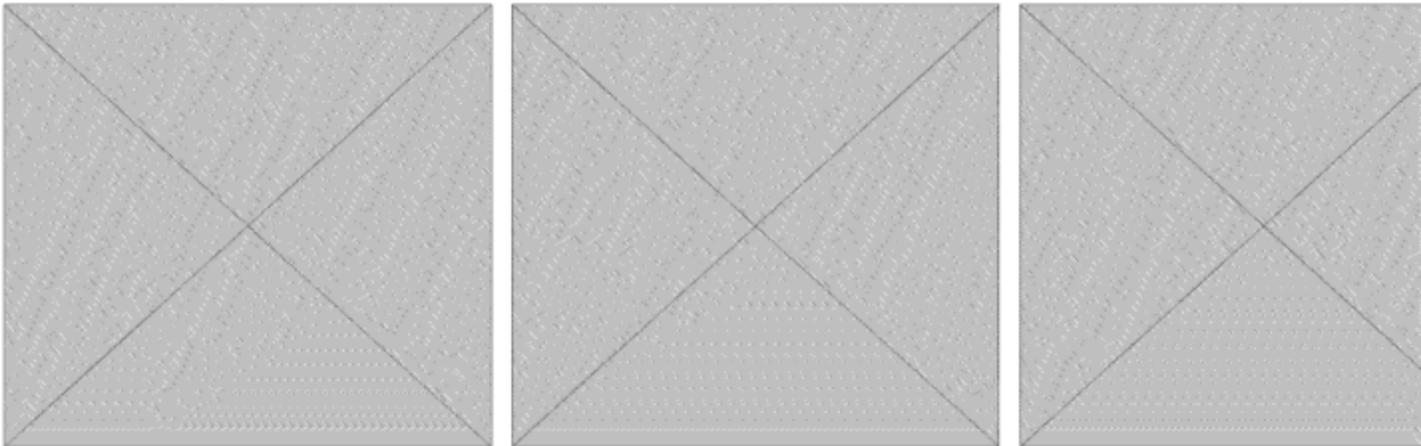

Guest Picks: Get With Grassy Accents for the Home »

April is in full swing, and I'm finally seeing green again! The grass is growing and the birds are chirping, and signs of my favorite season are showing. Fill your home, indoors and out, with grassy accessories to welcome the warmth and green more »

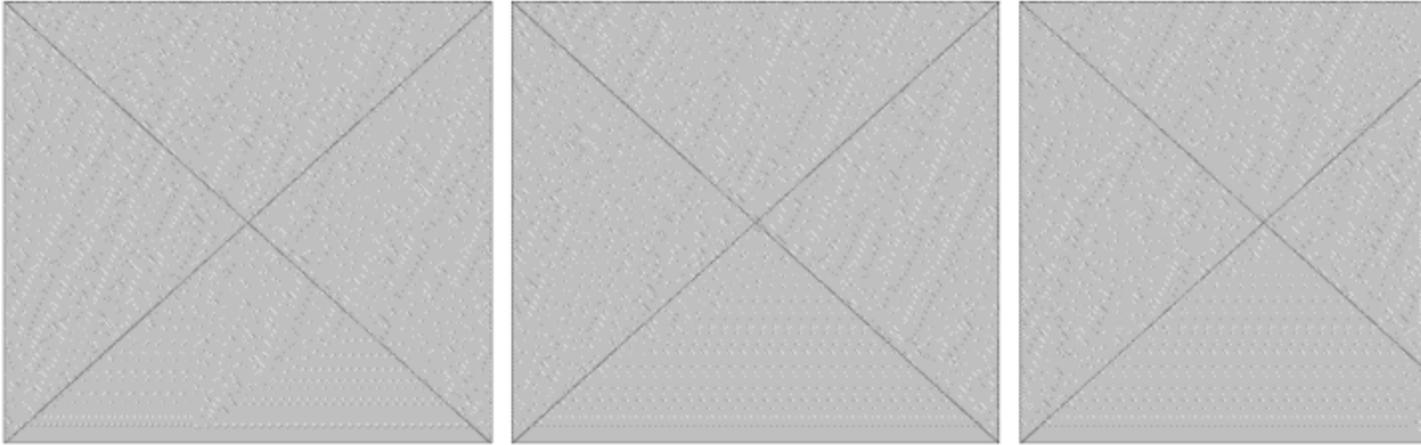

Laws of the Jungle: How to Get That Lush, Tropical Look »

I'm not talking modern tropical or rattan furniture. I am talking the lush, steamy, full-to-bursting look of the jungle. Pa... pattern, green everywhere. Big, bold flowers and layer upon layer of color. OK, so a jungle room might be a... more »

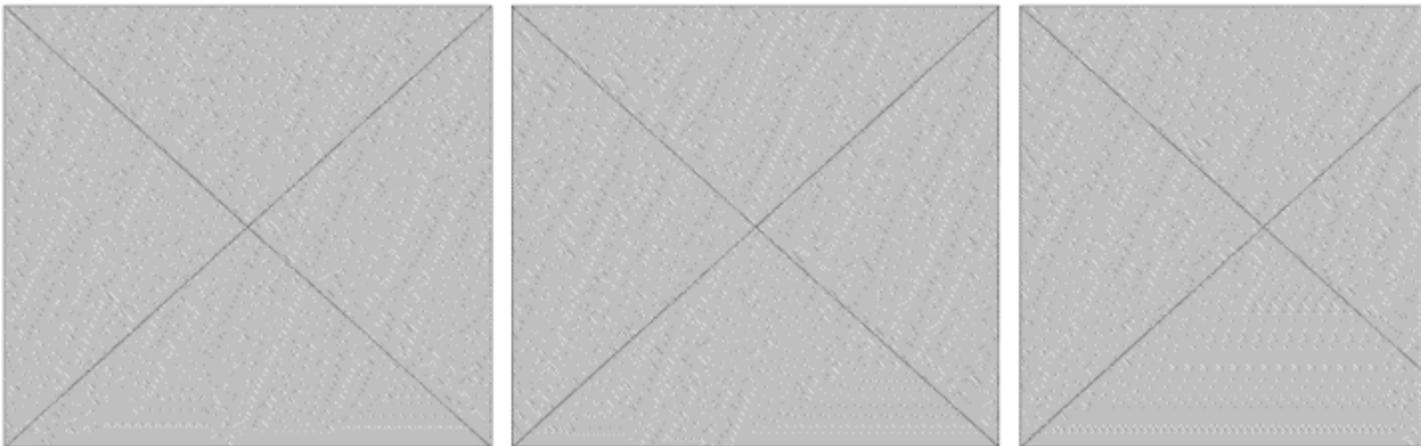

City View: Atlanta's Design Style Warms to Many Tastes »

Disclaimer: I have lived in Atlanta since 2002 and may be biased, but I do declare that home design in the hip-hop c... the world is Gone with the Wind fabulous. No, this does not mean we're all living in Tara or a home appointed by Sugarbaker... more »

Guest Picks: Stylish Furnishings for Small Spaces »

I design a lot of small spaces in the Boston area, where square footage is both precious and outrageously priced. I face the challenge of making the most out of every square foot. This is a collection of items for smaller homes that I have found more »

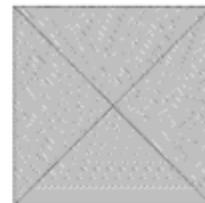

Latest Discussions on Houzz »

Wood Paneling Update ideas?! - Recently bought a house with the location, size and yard we love, but are very... more »

by cottageacres · 51 comments need help with this ugly fireplace - I want to make it look better, just not sure what to do. I might like to paint. very... more »

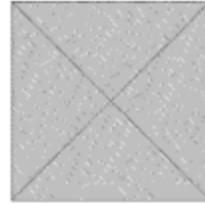

Hardwoods!!!! - First of all, which will hold up best? I have a lot of concerns that if I get oak...

by natalierus15 · 38 comments

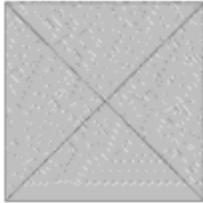

Need help with deck skirt for my house and need ideas for railing. Thanks in advance more »

by jlw1228 · 64 comments

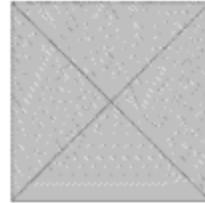

by Brian Thompson · 30 comments

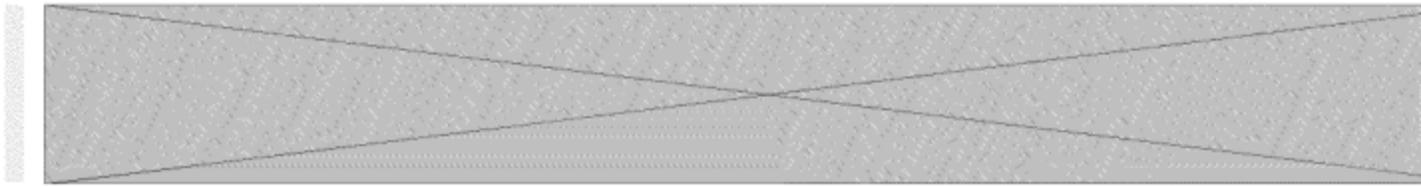

Budget conscious creative genius suggestions... - Just bought our first home and I'm hoping a savvy artistic genius can... more »

by maiperez · 45 comments weird useless mezzanine houzzers . im a bit torn about this space. its 5 feet deep

by Michael Gauthier · 34 comments

Follow  ©
2013
Houzz
Houzz
Inc.

Don't want to receive Houzz updates?
Unsubscribe.
View our privacy policy.