wanted to let you know about the fueling yesterday in st thomas

list price was 7.03

price paid 6.53 (.50 discount) x 1400 gallons = 9,142

price if we prepay 50k = 7.03 - 1.76 = 5.27 x 1400 gallons = 7,378 additional cost yesterday without prepay = 1,764

michael says that his 1.76 less retail is the equivalent of 0.30 above his cost should send additional 40,858 to have 50,000 prepay and have them deduct 1,400 gallons from 9,488 gallons that 50k would buy at 5.27 per gallon?

please advise

I don't know if you had conversation with JEE regarding the Fuel price in stt. The july 15th fuel priced increased + .15 since we didn't wire 50k I had no choice and was forced to pay $6.53 per gallon today in stt, which included a .50 cent discount, The Hancock's are still offering a 1.76cents off posted price / which according to Michael Hancock is .30 cents over his total cost.

Thx

Larry
