Good Afternoon,

I would suggest that we get something in writing, rather than a verbal and other than having Honstein place the unit rate before discount there is no way for us to know if we are receiving the 9.9% or 9.8%. They can write whatever they want

As I mentioned to you earlier Bella given the issues we have had with the fuel quality from Honstein over the last few months we still are going to investigate another company and as usual all vendors will be reviewed in Jan

Will keep you posted

*Warmest regards
Karen*

After conversation with Tito – general manager at Honstein Oil, we will receive 9.9% discount on Diesel fuel and 9.8% discount on Supreme fuel. The first delivery of fuel with a discount rate will be today December 2, 2010. The price on the invoice will represent the discounted price. I am not so comfortable with this presentation as I am not able to see the price at the pump. I ask for a better way to show the discount on the invoice. If you have any suggestion please let me know.
