Subject: two things

thanks for calling yesterday... just calling meant a lot to me.. we can talk later if you want. also, my friend here, the remarkable businessman Jahm Najafi, who has funded some of our stuff with Dawkins, and I told you about, has to be in NYC on Wed, and he has a few hours between meetings, and he really wanted to meet you.. Are you in NY and available on Wed.. You would enjoy him.. He is sharp, very sharp.. and don't hold the fact that he is from Iran against him.. though I know that is a stupid thing to say because you will be Jeffrey regardless..

I will direct you to the online version of Origins of Deception event, which was fantastic.. when it comes out.. Robert Trivers is amazing, and you would very much like him.. if he is on his meds and hasn't had too much to drink.. He may want to move here, which would be remarkable.. He is basically responsible for theories of reciprocal altruism, done in the 70's when he was at harvard, and now all the stuff on self deception.. he is brilliant.. and in my opinion may be more brilliant than Martin Nowak.. although obviously not as capable a mathematician..
