Thanks. You'll hear from her. MaryAnn is the person who was responsible for the New York Times Building and the Gehry Building as well as Atlantic yards so she's the very top person on development for us in New York.

Hi David,

Thanks for your understanding.

I just heard back from MaryAnn Gilmartin, the head of development for our office in New York. She would be very interested in following up on this site. How would suggest she do this. Should she just call you?

Thanks,

Jimmy

Hi David,

I apologize profusely for somehow missing this email. I do apologize because you were very kind to send it.

As I think you know all of the work we do in New York City is conducted through our subsidiary, Forest City Ratner. They will be the people with the best sense of the market and of our capacity.

With your permission I will forward this on to MaryAnne Gilmartin the head of development in new York to get her reaction.

If there is a meeting I will certainly attend.

Again my apologies about the length of time in replying and thanks so much for thinking of us.

All the best,

Jimmy
