

To: jeevacation@gmail.com[jeevacation@gmail.com]; Jeffrey Epstein[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Fri 6/3/2011 6:11:29 AM
Subject: #1

Privet moi dorogoi!

How are you? What's the weather there?

In New York, terribly hot, and in my room, no air conditioner! :(((I died the first night from the heat. So slept badly that I almost slept through school. :(But everything is fine. I had to buy air conditioning.

And in my room did not have enough closet for underwear and small items and large mirror. Would be happy to television (which is also not in the apartment) but it is not so important. So do I have to buy a carpet, curtains for the windows and repaint the bed and desk - because they are very old and the paint is all peeling. There is not even a simple chair to the table, but that's trivia. I wanted to ask you, maybe you have some kind of useless old furniture from your apartment (a large mirror, bedside table clothes, chair, desk can) so I do not need to buy?