attached is estimate for 9' Caribe Tender with 10hp motor After reviewing both 8' 10" walker bay and the 9' caribe would recommend the 9' caribe for the following reasons Caribe hull is fiber glass and can be repaired if damaged, vs walker bay is plastic construction when the seas are rough is when this will used, therefore feel the need for a sightly heavier tender with larger engine tender will be used in open ocean conditions, not in a marina the plan would be purchase a light weight dolly to pull and launch tender tender with 10hp motor, $7202.00 estimated cost of dolly $550.00 Off shore have one in stock, i have placed a Hold on it can we proceed with purchase?
