"There are always new ones. This fall (mid sept) will be some new models but I haven't actually seen any of them.

I use the Samsung Focus which is quite nice and is easily the best one (ATT).

The Windows Phones are all the same in terms of how they are to use. The difference is just in the size of the phone, weight, and amount of memory. So picking one that feels good to hold is probably best.

There is a software update that will apply to all phones coming out this fall too. It will move some of the commands around and stuff. It is "progress".

Thanks for your support!"
