Single phase power already at sight therefore 100 gpm pump 6 inch casing
Anything bigger will require 3 phase power
3 phase only at existing Dakota well
3 week lead time
Would use existing infrastructure Controls, power etc to keep cost down
Will need to lay electric and pipe 800 ft
To connect to existing infrastructure

Brice G.;

Hydrogeologic Services sent the attached bid for the new well at Zorro Ranch. HGS estimates the 6-inch well would cost $110,996, and the 8-inch well would cost $123,816; both bids including a permanent pump.

I expect to get a bid from Yellow Jacket Drilling later this afternoon, which I will forward to you. Stewart Brothers opted out of the project due to committed workload.

We can discuss these, along with the OSE Request for Variance during our 9:00 a.m. meeting on Monday. I look forward to seeing you then.

Please call in the meantime with any questions you may have.

Casey C.
