Subject: GII school for [REDACTED]

Jeffrey,

I have negotiated a great deal for my GII training and Bell 430 combo with Flight Safety,. now that we operate two aircraft that Flight Safety have sims for, I can take advantage of a full service deal offered by Flight safety, which allows paying for the most expensive aircraft and second is free. since I only paid $13,000 for my initial Bell 430 class and used Sikorsky remaining training from the C++, I only have to pay an additional $5,300 for my GII class this year and i can train as many time as I like for free for a year, .

The normal cost for full service is $26,900 for GII re-current, I was able to get flight safety to lower this to $22,500 for GII full service for [REDACTED], if [REDACTED] signs up for the GII full service she can train at Flight Safety as many times as she wants in a year. The cost at Simuflight is $9,900 for a one time only event. my question is, do you want me to sign [REDACTED] up for full service at Flight Safety for $22,500 or send her to Simuflight for the $9,900 one time only class,. (GIV is very high at Flight safety to include as full service, $32,000 for GIV full service, which would include GII for free),. we are both due in June for GII class.

pls advise Simuflight $9,900 or Flight Safety $22,500 ?

thanks,
Larry
