Subject: Warren

Jeff: I'll be blunt. Warren may not make it to the end of the year, and if he does, his state won't be good. If you are thinking of paying him a visit it should be sooner rather than later. If you wait too long, he won't be the Warren you remember. He's going downhill rapidly. I think a visit should just be to see him for an hour or so, laugh a bit, talk about the past, etc. No need to stay for a few days, etc. There's no silver lining to this. I'm supposed to be in Miami this Wed thru Monday. Let me know and I might be able to change things around to come home early. This sucks on every level you can imagine. Be well. TK

Michael: If Im misstating anything re his condition, pipe in. TK
