

Jeffrey,

I put an informal call through to Rod Christie-Miller on Friday afternoon, indicating that we are continuing to put pressure on the Daily Telegraph to retract their outrageous description of you, and it was now becoming inevitable that we would have to seek undermine the comfort they have clearly got from the D of Y's unfavourable references to you by pointing out that she and her daughters had availed of your hospitality immediately following your release from prison and right up until recently.

He took on board what I was saying, and asked me to hold off seeking instructions from you in this regard until he had spoken again to his client. He has indicated that he will revert to me again on Monday.

I am holding off following up with the Daily Telegraph in the interim.

Kind regards.

Paul

Paul Tweed

Senior Partner

Belfast | Dublin | London

t:

f:

m:

e:

w:

b:

Regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority

Firm SRA ID: [REDACTED]

<http://www.sra.org.uk/rules>

Paul Tweed is also a member of Paul Tweed LLP

Regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority

[REDACTED]

Disclaimer:

This e-mail transmission may be legally privileged but is, in any event, confidential and intended solely for the person to whom it is addressed. If you are not the intended recipient, you must not copy, distribute or disseminate the information in it, or take any action in reliance of it. Any views expressed in this message are those of the individual sender, except where the sender specifically states them to be the views of Johnsons Solicitors. If you have received this message in error, do not open any attachment, but please notify the individual sender (above) deleting this message from your system. Please rely on your own virus check. While reasonable efforts are made to ensure that e-mails are free from bugs or virus infection, no responsibility is taken by Johnsons Solicitors for any damage arising from any bug or virus infection