I am sure you are having a nice one.

Steve refuses to join me (hates anything in public) but I am going to my boss' - it should be fun.

He's the chairman of neurosurgery and former head of all neurosurgery for the armed forces. Badass, and Jewish.

We should talk about A & S.

I am worried that they will get very complacent and sweep this under the rug since you've "called the lawyers to heel."

The doctor in me says you need to keep the conversation going until the situation is solved to everyone's satisfaction.
