Also, is there any chance you can get an indication of interest from Templeton in our proposal? If they decide to support it, we should honor them – assuming they would like that – and announce the initiative at our Gala to which I invited you because we will be creating a special theme in the area of brain science.

And speaking of the Gala, I'm attaching the earliest iteration of honorees and distinguished guests for you to look at. Many more will come but it is already a unique mix. This should appeal to your friend at Templeton.
