working on it. I've found several websites that make that type furniture and am emailing them all to see if they can do a custom table with benches.

I've ordered an acrylic mirror being sent to 71st today. I can fedex to lsj if you want. I've called several places around here, garden centers, mirror stores, Home Depot, places in flower district, etc, no one has "outdoor" mirrors. I've emailed a woman who had a blog with a whole section of using mirrors in the garden, etc, and she said she has used normal mirrors outside at her California home for years and they are all fine, she sources all different places for interesting mirrors, garage sales, etc.

The mirror places I called said they have never heard of special mirror intended for outdoor use.
