THANKS, you are brilliant, i will do more brainstorming this evening and add this and send you all

P S : Richard, my LSAT teacher was at some of your lectures at Harvard when he was studying in Boston he said that you are one of the best mathematicians and a well known among them, this morning i showed him your introduction and he wondered who wrote it for me so i told him - a math professor.. also he was surprised that i still take LSAt classes because he claims that you will help me much more to get to HLS than he can. However, to give him some consolation..I said that his classes are still really good and useful which is true.
tell me if you are going to Fashion night tonight cause if not I will be going to geneva for a couple of days But spending time with you would be more fun anyway
