Dear Parents -

Thank you for accepting the e-mail summary of your child's homework assignments via Google Classroom. This is a new tool for me this year, so I am learning as we go through the year! I've had several student and parent concerns about homework being listed as late or not done through this website. Please note that I am using Google Classroom to simply post homework assignments. The actual homework grades are updated on PowerSchool. To avoid future confusion, homework assignments will now be posted as announcements.

Thank you,

Nicole
