

To: [REDACTED]
From: Richard Kahn
Sent: Fri 9/16/2016 5:03:40 PM
Subject: Re: I visited w/Lyn today

thanks for update and happy you had a great visit merwin said she had 2nd chemo last night so she must have some strength i never made it over to visit wed night but will try again in next few days..

Richard Kahn
HBRK Associates Inc.
575 Lexington Avenue 4th Floor
New York, NY 10022
[REDACTED]

> On Sep 13, 2016, at 7:31 PM, [REDACTED] wrote:
>
> I visited with Lyn today for an hour and a half...she is still at the hospital but looked WAY better than when I saw her last. She was awake, talking, walking, smiling...They are now letting Lyn control her own pain medication...she was also given a patch with pain medication. When I was there they took Lyn down for a CT scan to check on the stent they placed in her bile duct to make sure it is doing its job and confirm no infection (she has had a fever over the past few days) ...
She should have the results soon... apparently I chose the right day to visit with the fever gone today and she was feeling better.
>
> She hopes for her second round of chemo but she must get stronger...
>
> She still talks about work and wants to make sure all is running smoothly in her absence...she was definitely happy to see me...