Hi George,

I hope you are well.

We have a few things that we are hoping to do.

1. We are getting a new TV for another room and a wall rack that we would like mounted. We also ordered a blue tooth speaker to go with this Tv and a wall mount. Lastly we want to hook direct Tv up to this Tv also,
- 2 long ago when we switched to DirecTV the DirecTV guys took the cable to hook our basement dvd to the speakers. I have the proper cable now so that you can hook it up so we can hook this up so we can use the surround sound speakers vs the Tv speakers if we watch a dvd or Netflix
- 3 I cannot figure out how to hook my sonus up to my computer iTunes. I know you showed me before but for now it does not work.
4. if you can just take a look at our Wi-Fi, I think we have enough power range but sometimes it does not seem strong enough. I will say it was not working well and I unplugged both towers, (first time in a few years I ever did that) and everything seemed to work much better.

I think that is all we have for now

I would think we get the Tv sometime next week if you have some time let me know so we can schedule.
